John F. Kennedy

A Weekend of Sorrow

The crack of a rifle rang round the world Friday and a president of the United States lay dead. John F. Kennedy, 35th president, had been assassinated as he rode through the streets of an American city.

The impact of the bullets was vicariously felt by every individual as the first halting, unbelieving words came over radios that just a moment before had been playing the nonsensical tunes of the day. Even in newspaper offices, hardened as they are to daily tragedy, stunned men and women gathered to listen to each scrap of news.

The most shocking aspect to Americans, unsaid but not unfelt was "how can this happen here?" In less sophisticated countries, yes, but not in America where we settle our differences with ballots not bullets.

But the deed was done and all the world mourns the death of John F. Kennedy.

Here was a man who had achieved a rare popularity. Whether one agreed with his political philosophy or not, the man himself had a magnetism which attracted strong feelings. There was a personal identification which transcended purely political differences of opinion.

John Kennedy will probably not go down in history as a great president, and only time will tell whether he was a good president. But he will be remembered as a man who stirred men.

It has been said that he gave his life for his country, even as a soldier. True. But let us not forget that many another man died as suddenly and as violently, not on the field of battle, in doing his job. J. D. Tippitt, a police officer was also killed moments later trying to apprehend the man who was charged with the assassination of a president. He too, gave his life for his country.

So now that the shock of the week-end passes, let us turn to business to which John F. Kennedy, and Tippitt, each had a part. Let us take up our share of responsibility to make our community, our state, our nation, our world a place where the dignity of man can come true.

Sadness, shock at JFK's death

The bells tolled at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church at 11:45 a.m. as if a plague had struck the city.

People held their heads down as they passed one another on the street, so that they wouldn't show the tears in their eyes.

One local merchant dazedly sent his people home, locked the doors and walked out.

An executive left his office saying "If I don't come back don't expect me. This is terrible!"

"Everyone's upset," was the comment at one store. "Nothing can be done for you today."

At first word of President Kennedy's assassination, a lady at the Top of the Hill on Mission street spoke. "They say he's dead, but I won't believe it until they confirm it."

Two girls walked, crying, away from their work at the Hillside Beauty School.

"They won't tell us whether he's dead!"

At Cooper's Kitchen, at Hillside and Mission, a lady looked on in distress.

"It's almost impossible to believe. I can't believe it!"

Then later: "The President's been very foolish, he was in an unpleasant situation in Texas."

Across the street, a man yelled:

"These things are planned. How can you get through the secret police?"

A man beside him spoke.

"This country is a black nation. This country was headed for greatness. He was a great man."

He continued:

"We were ahead, now we're going backwards. He was going to do so much for the nation."

The first man spoke again:

"You know what I liked about the guy. He wasn't just a poor little rich man that was a fink. He was a great person."

Multi-family building increase in Daly City

Many new trends in building activity, bedroom count, rental ranges and design have been uncovered through an exhaustive survey just completed of the multi-family residential market in Daly City. The research study was undertaken by Ronald I. Lyons of Real Estate Services in San Francisco.

"Multi-family building for Daly City has picked up considerably during the period 1960 through Sept. 1, 1963, with 1,089 units constructed compared to 769 units during 1953-1959," Lyons reported. Of more than 3,000 apartment units in the city, 65 per cent are found surrounding the Westlake Shopping Center.

The bedroom count of recently built units shows a heavy reliance on the one bedroom apartment. In a sample of 803 units built since 1960 only 12 per cent were studios, 60 per cent had one bedroom and 26 per cent had two bedrooms. There were a negligible number of units with three bedrooms.

Lyons found monthly rents for studios range $80 to $115, one bedroom apartments run $90 to $150 and two bedroom units rent $113 to $175. Little vacancy occurs today and the absorption of new units appears to be strong.

Design data shows that more special attention has been given to the living room and bedroom areas than the kitchen and dining areas. Some recently constructed buildings have square foot areas of various units as follows: studios, 383-487; one bedroom, 591-744; and two bedrooms, 837-934. Multi-family construction in Daly City is expected to remain strong, particularly in the light of additional freeway access to San Francisco now under construction and rapid transit which is planned to be in operation to Daly City in early 1969.

The Real Estate Services firm specializes in the research and analysis of properties and areas for investors and developers.

County career guidance center for HS students

The San Mateo County Industry-Education Council together with the School Administrators of the County are sponsoring a "Career Guidance Center," May 3-9, at the County Fair Grounds.

The "Center" will have from 50 to 100 career counselors from industry, business, trades and professions representing all forms of employment existent on the Peninsula who will sit in counsel for one week, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and two evenings.

To the "Center" will be transported about half the high school students of the County for one and one-half hour interviews with the counselor of their choice.

As presently planned, one evening would be set aside at the "Center" for high school counselors and faculty members and another evening for parents with students.

It has long been a problem for industry to get the ear of students concerning the up-to-the-minute requirements of their personnel departments and it has also been a problem for high school counselors and faculty members to update their knowledge of the requirements. It is hoped that with adequate preparation before interviews and adequate follow-up by high school and county school counselors after interviews, a close relationship can be started and maintained between the schools and job placement personnel of the County.

Bank of America buys Jefferson HS bonds

A Bank of America N. T. & S. A. underwriting syndicate (Nov. 19) purchased the $660,000 bond issue of the Jefferson Union High School District, San Mateo County.

The Bank of America group paid a premium of $279 for a combination of 5 per cent, 3 per cent, 3¼ per cent and 3½ per cent bonds. Net interest cost to the district was 3.46 per cent. The bonds were reoffered to investors to yield from 2.25 per cent to 3.60 per cent, according to maturity Dec. 1, 1965-1988.

The offering was the second series of 1962 School Bonds. Proceeds will be used for various school purposes. The district is located just south of San Francisco, with 51 per cent of assessed valuation in Daly City and about 20 per cent in Pacifica. Present estimated population of 101,000 compares with 31,000 in 1950.

Bank of America bids on virtually every California municipal bond offering and is an important source of funds for the new schools, hospitals, water and sewer systems, and other community needs in the state. In the past 12 months the bank and its associates bought more than $380 million of California municipal bonds.

The bank syndicate which purchased the Jefferson Union High School District bonds included: Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc.; Stone & Youngberg; Lawson, Levy, Williams & Stern; Walston & Co., Inc.; and C. N. White & Co.

schools closed in mourning.

Daly City schools, both elementary and high schools—along with all other schools in the state, were closed Monday.

The closing marked an observance of mourning for former President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Banks and post offices were also closed on this day, as the nation paid tribute to the departed President.

Few businesses remained open and the Westlake Shopping area, normally crowded with thousands of cars, was almost empty.

Landslides--an age old problem for the Daly City coastline

Landslides and damage to homes along the beaches and cliffs of Daly City and Pacifica should not have been unexpected and could have been predicted had a thorough survey been made a number of years ago.

This is borne out by a geological survey of landslides in the San Francisco South Quadrangle published in January, 1960. Unfortunately for the present homeowners, the publication of the survey post-dates construction of their homes.

The San Francisco South Quadrangle is roughly from the Pacific Ocean to the Bay, east and west, the southern boundary of Daly City and about half of San Francisco. More than 130 slides have been mapped in the quadrangle, or an average of 2 slides per square mile.

While the field work for the survey was done intermittently from 1952 to 1959, an unpublished report in the files of the San Francisco Engineer written in 1945 by Chester Marliave contains a map showing some of the landslides north of Thornton Beachc State Park. Aerial photos taken in 1943, 1946, and 1956 as well as published and unpublished reports were used.

According to M. G. Bonilla writer of the survey, information was also obtained from old maps such as the U.S. Coast Survey's 1869 map of San Francisco Peninsula which showed outlines of large landslides near Thornton Beach and Mussel Rock.

The evidence seems clear that additional landslides could be expected in this area. The map prepared in the 1960 survey shows 32 landslides from the county line on the north to Mussel Rock, the largest of which is the Thornton Beach landslide. In fact, "Thornton Beach State Park is in an area of landslides which extends along the coast of 1¼ miles and extends inland about 700 feet. The area is made up of four or five distinct landslides, including slumps, slump-earthflows, and probably block glide," to quote the survey.

The coastline along Daly City is made up of what is called the Merced Formation, which is described as "mostly friable to firm sand, silt, and clay." These layers are not the same at all places and the angle at which they lie may determine the possibility of landslides. Apparently, the silt and clay layers do not have the adhesion of sand and when at a steep angle and wetted become lubricated enough to cause a slide.

The report points out that "slope debris and ravine fill was involved in the greatest number of landslides. About 35 per cent of all the slides were in this material. Landslides in the Merced formation were the next most common, but almost all of these landslides were in the steep sea cliffs cut in the Merced."

The Thornton Beach area is particularly susceptible to sliding.

Old hiway 1, which ran down the cliffs from Alemany Blvd. and along the coast was one of the most expensive to maintain in the state. During the last 10 years of its use, before it was closed to through traffic in 1958 it cost the California Division of Hiways and average of $10,000 per year for correcting landslides.

When the plat for the homes on the cliff was accepted by Daly City in October, 1955, the maintenance of Hiway 1 along the beach by the Division of Hiways, repair of small slides, etc., kept the area above the road in a relatively stable condition.

But according to competent engineers, the abandonment of the road probably speeded up the action of landslides for it permitted old drainage systems to deteriorate. This caused water to back up, to penetrate into the ground and provide the necessary lubrication for the earth to slide.

The report says "If direction of slope influences the incidence of landslides, the cause is probably related to the moisture conditions at shallow depths in the soil: therefore debris slides, debris avalanches, and earthflows, all of which typically involve surficial materials with a high-water content, should be influenced most by direction of slope."

The chief cause of the slides in this area has been removal of material at the base—the action of the ocean waves cutting away material and make the hillside unstable.

The second main cause has been earthquakes, not unexpected as the San Andreas fault runs in a north-west, south-east direction entering the coast just north of Mussel Rocks. There are four other fault lines paralleling the main fault all west of San Bruno mountain.

Adding to the earthquake factor is that the epicenter for the 1906 and 1957 quakes—the two strongest in the past 60 years—is just south of the Daly City line, approximately where the present Hiway 1 dips down into Pacifica.

What can be done about the sliding cliffs and the damage to homes at the top? Not much.

Since the main cause of landslides is action of the ocean is eroding the base of old slides, some sort of breakwater several hundred feet out to sea might help. But this would be tremendously expensive—far more than the value of the homes threatened.

Daly City's council has been well aware of the problem and through Congressman J. Arthur Younger has secured an appropriation of $109,000 for an Army Engineer's Survey of the beach erosion along the coastline of Daly City and Pacifica.

After the funds are appropriated it will take a year to complete the survey. It is anticipated that at least $400,000 will be required to stabilize the erosion, if it can be done. Meanwhile more landslides can be anticipated.

No one can predict earthquakes nor do much about them, and they are the second main cause of the slides.

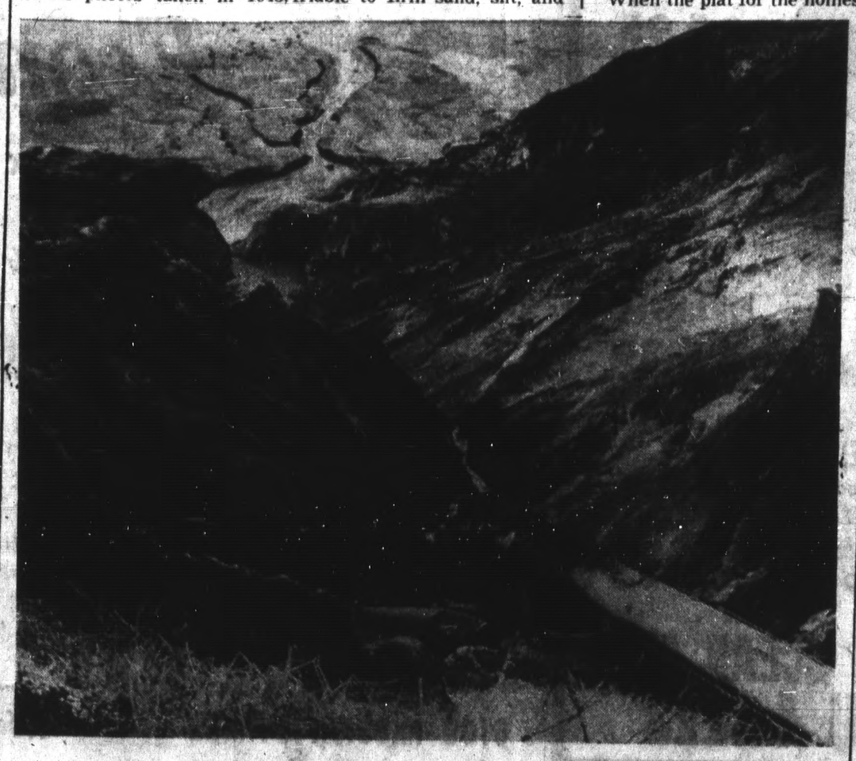

CRUMBLING ROAD—Old Hiway 1 is rapidly breaking up and falling down to the sea as landslides continue. Five years ago this was a much traveled route between Daly City and Pacifica.

(ABOVE)

BROKEN PIPE—Sliding earth in the cliff near Thornton Beach State Park has broken this large pipe which drains more than 90 acres of homes. A break in the pipe further up the cliff moved one-sixteenth of an inch in one day last week.

(RIGHT)

DOWN THE DRAIN—Though supported by heavy cables, this drain from the Westlake area has been broken apart by sliding land and water is making ever deeper channel down to the Pacific Ocean at the top of the picture.

CITY CHAIRMAN of the March of Dimes in Daly City is Mrs. Edward S. Berry, 56 Parkwood Dr.

Local March of Dimes chairman is appointed

Mrs. Edward S. Berry, veteran of March of Dimes campaigns in two states, has accepted appointment as city chairman for the Mothers March in Daly City in the 1964 drive during January of the rapidly approaching new year, it was announced.

"We are fortunate in having a volunteer leader of the caliber of Mrs. Berry," according to James J. Kehoe, chairman of the San Mateo County Chapter of The National Foundation. "Her background in these annual March of Dimes campaigns both here in this county and in Pierce County in Washington state makes her well fitted for the Mothers March city chairman's post in Daly City for our 1964 drive."

Mrs. Berry, who lives at 56 Parkwood Dr. here with her husband, Colonel Berry, USA (retired), has been interested in The National Foundation for many years. She served on the executive board of the Pierce County Chapter in Tacoma, Washington, and also was chairman of the March of Dimes at Fort Lewis before moving to Daly City in 1960, when Colonel Berry retired after some 30 years service in the army. He served in several states during his service years, including Hawaii; and also saw tours of duty abroad in Turkey and Ethiopia.

Their son had polio at age 16, she said, but long since has recovered and is a Captain in the United States Army stationed at Fort Knox. A married daughter lives in Seattle, and the Colonel and Mrs. Berry have five grandchildren.

In other public volunteer service, Mrs. Berry served as chairman of the Westlake unit of the League of Women Voters for two years, is a member of the Altar Guild at St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Westlake and has worked in newspaper writing and business in her varied career.

The March of Dimes, with polio all but a thing of the past with the two polio vaccines developed over years of research, now is seeking to do a similar public health job on both birth defects and arthritis, cripplers of more victims than polio even in the pre-vaccine years.

WTP Lions 'seeing eye' luncheon

The West of Twin Peaks Lions Club will see a demonstration of guide dog training and learn of the work with blind children by the California League for the Handicapped at a luncheon at the Town House Restaurant Nov. 27 beginning at noon.

The program will be presented by Miss Rose Resnick, executive director of the California League for the Handicapped.

A noted concert musician, Miss Resnick also will perform at the piano.

Sponsoring memberships in the California League for the Handicapped, which go to support the League's summer camp and year 'round recreation and training programs for blind and multiply handicapped children, may be obtained at the League's headquarters, 909 Hyde St., S.F.

Younger Reports

Erosion, taxes, braceros

The 1.9 billion dollar Federal public works bill, passed last week, includes $109,000 for a beach erosion study for Daly City and Pacifica and $660,000 for a Redwood City harbor-port, Congressman J. Arthur Younger reported at a press conference last week.

The bill also provides funds for the continuing study on flood control of county streams, including Colma Creek.

• • •

In other discussions, Younger said the "hot" issues coming up for a vote early next year include the tax bill, civil rights bill and hospitalization bill.

Younger said he is against a tax cut if Federal expenditures are not cut accordingly.

He predicted President Kennedy's tax cut measures would fail unless there is a budget cut.

• • •

Younger said he is opposed to any raise in salaries of congressmen. The proposed raise is from $22,000 to $32,000—a $10,000 increase per year.

"I can't see a pay raise out of a deficit." No corporation would."

A salary increase, he said, doesn't makee a better congressman.

• • •

Younger said he feels the Bracero program in the central valleys of California will be "finished" a year from this January. The farmers have been notified they are on "borrowed" time, he said, and must obtain domestic help.

• • •

In other comments, Younger pointed out he doesn't discount Nixon as a Republican candidate for the 1964 presidential election.

He said today he feels that Senator Barry Goldwater is the most "logical" candidate to do the job. Younger said he also would not discount Gov. Romney of Michigan or Rockefeller of New York.

The Congressman said he is introducing a bill to counter a move by the Federal Communications Commission to force a radio or television station to give free television time. Younger is in opposition to a ruling that if a person or firm buys an hour of time and the subject is of a controversial matter, the station would then be forced to give any opponents an hour of free time.

• • •

Congressman Younger said he also opposes another FCC ruling to limit the time and number of advertising commercials. He feels this takes away from free enterprise by putting advertising in the hands of a commission.

CD holds classes in Pacifica

Litter Bearers of the Medical and Health Section of the Pacifica Civil Defense and Disaster Corps met at the Pacifica Recreation Building, Linda Mar, Nov. 16.

Expert instruction was given in handling and transporting casualties.

Instructors were from the Pacifica Fire Department and the Mercy Ambulance Company of Westlake.

Captain Edward Girdler of the Pacifica Fire Department, an experienced Red Cross first aid instructor, was assisted by Fireman James Evans.

Mike McDonald of the Mercy Ambulance was accompanied by two assistants: Leroy Albert and Glen Garner.

Another session is planned for February.

The Medical and Health Service hopes to recruit 100 more men to participate as litter bearers by January 1st. Participation will include a yearly general meeting in January,, an instruction and practice session in February, assisting with one or two Civil Defense drills yearly and assisting in case of a local disaster where there are casualties.

Men who are interested may phone Mrs. Marie Buchalter (Westview)—PL 6-5016, Mrs. Paula Mann (Vallemar)—359-2997, or Mrs. Carroll Gauger (Linda Mar)—359-0517.

Lincoln classes visit airport

Early in November two second level classes from Abraham Lincoln Elementary School visited the United Air Line base at International Airport, San Francisco.

The trip was taken to further acquaint the students, who are studying "Modes of Transportation," with the importance of air travel.

The classes were greeted by an airline guide who told them about the care of airplanes, explained meals on planes and how cargo was handled.

After questions and answers, the visitors boarded a DC8-Jet Mainliner where the guide pointed out the physical characteristics, discussed the weight, height, length and cost of the plane.

He explained the function of the brakes and the radar.

In groups of six the children then toured the cockpit.

Accompanying Mrs. Kathryn Gerdes' class were the following mothers: Mrs. Nancy O'Connell, Mrs. Beatrice Hunt, Mrs. Margaret Caldow and Mrs. Marcelline Meyers.

With Mrs. Carol Colburn's class were: Mrs. Lorraine D'Elia, Mrs. Lois Jahn, Mrs. Mary Perreira and Mrs. Mary Ann Lacy.

Cub Pack 84 Plans Bottle party

Boys from Cub Pack 84 are getting ready for the holiday season with a "Bottle Party." Cubmaster Joseph Monks announced that the Cubs will be donning their uniforms and ringing doorbells on Saturday, Nov. 30, to gather their "guests." Monks cordially invites all Broadmoor and Garden Village residents to send their unwanted, returnable bottles to the festivities.

The bottles are guaranteed a good time, and the Pack treasury will gain a much needed boost.

'Wildflower Jamboree' slated on Twin Peaks

"Operation Golden Poppy"—the second annual "Wildflower Jamboree" atop Twin Peaks (Market street side) will be held Saturday (Nov. 23) at 10 a.m. by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce landscape and tree planting section and the Department of Public Works of the City and County of San Francisco.

More than 50,000 packets of seed will be strewn over the easterly slopes of the Peaks by more than 1,500 Girl Scouts, according to Bill Graves of Richfield Oil Company, chairman of the event.

The Jamboree is designed to remind San Franciscans of the need for civic conservation and points up the continuing Chamber street tree planting program—"an effort to make San Francisco an emerald peninsular city," according to Brian Fewer, chairman of that program and superintendent of the street tree planting division of the Department of Public Works.

Last year some 50,000 seed packets—donated by the Richfield Oil Corporation—were planted in less than three hours. Girl Scout troop made a day of it by bringing lunches and initiating a Twin Peaks litter clean-up in conjunction with the operation.

"In time the easterly slopes of Twin Peaks will be mantled in gold," Fewer said. "Last year's effort resulted in a heavy growth of plantings and should bear fruition this spring.

"Innumerable clumps of plants are now visible. This year's 50,000 seedlings—planted at the right time of the year and with rainfall as an aid—also should produce fields of golden poppies.

"Over the years all San Franciscans will come to appreciate the work of these young volunteers when these beautiful peaks spring into an annual riot of color."

Fewer and his associates are looking forward to an intensified program of street tree planting. "Thus far more than 35,000 street trees have been planted in about five years by the arduous work of individual citizens on a 'do-it-yourself' basis. The ultimate goal is 35,000.

"The end of barren cliff-dwelling is in sight. San Francisco need not be a 'concrete jungle.' San Francisco, mantled in green, eventually can claim to be as beautiful as any city in the world," Fewer said.

Saturday's planting will take place on Christmas Tree Point, the observation plaza area on the northerly slopes of Twin Peaks. A sound truck, donated by Les Vogel Chevrolet, will provide music.

Christmas concert

The Loring Club Male Chorus Christmas concert, featuring Marvin Klebe, baritone, as soloist, will be held Sunday, Dec. 1, at 3 p.m., at the Joseph Nourse Auditorium. Eugene Fulton will direct the 65 male voices in a program which will include Pergolesi's "Glory to God in the Highest" and Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze."

ASSISTANT MANAGER—Robert L. Aring has been named assistant manager at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Westlake office in Daly City, it was announced by President Emmett G. Solomon. He succeeds Joseph E. Medina, who has been transferred to the bank's Marina District office in San Francisco. Aring's banking career began in 1946 when he joined Crocker-Citizens as a consumer loan interviewer at its Market-Fourth office in San Francisco. He was manager of the consumer loan department at the bank's Seaboard office in San Francisco when, in October, 1962, he entered Crocker-Citizens' administrative training program. Upon completion of that training, he received his present assignment. The bank's Westlake office, located at 33 Southgate Ave. in the Westlake shopping center, is headed by Assistant Vice President and Manager Fred H. Brylka. It is one of 213 Crocker-Citizens offices in 124 communities in northern and southern California.

Perry Como

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

Bright klieg lights overhead, cameras, boom mikes on the stage, towering steel scaffolds holding other lights, almost a hundred staff members scurrying hither and yon—the whole stage of the San Francisco Opera House presented a picture of happy confusion. Then out stepped "Mr. C" himself and in his delightfully casual way quickly and completely captured the attention of the audience.

Greeting the audience he said "we want you to laugh and we want you to applaud, and you had better." Completely unruffled the star continued talking as the hands of the clock drew near to the hour when the "Perry Como Kraft Music Hall" would go "live" coast to coast over NBC, KRON-TV.

On a large screen in the center of the gold curtain the audience watched as the program went on the air. The opening number was spectacular as beautiful dancing girls in white formals with dramatic trains danced down specially constructed stairs as Perry sang "San Francisco."

In keeping with the setting for the show which was san Francisco's magnificent opera house (during the show many times the cameras showed the audience in the golden tiers) the whole mood of the show was elegance. That was until Victor Borge stepped onto the stage.

His comedy touches added so much also in keeping with the dignity of the setting. Quite hilarious was the chamber music number featuring Perry, Victor Borge, Nanette Fabray and Jose Greco.

We have seen many "live" television shows in Hollywood. But we can truthfully say we have never seen such a smooth and professional show.

A mark of a "Como" show is perfection because this is what the star demands of himself and his dedicated staff.

Then too, there is a genuineness about Perry Como that few stars of his stature possess. We were privileged to chat with him at length at a press conference about a year ago. Immediately one senses his honesty and depth of character as well as talent. This is why his show will continue to be a top favorite across the nation.

Bill of Rights Know-how is urged

"In knowledge of the Bill of Rights and in loyalty to its propositions rests our faith in the future," declares the California State Board of Education.

A recent statement of the board says, "the study of the Bill of Rights is of greatest importance and . . . more attention should be given to the Constitution of the United States."

The statement, contained in a letter to California school superintendents, was sent to Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District; Richard Foster, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District; and the other superintendents of the more than 1,600 school districts in the state.

The letter said that "one of the essential things (to be done) now is to establish our children in the American belief in the dignity and rights of every person."

Free Discussion

"We (the state board) believe that teaching in this field, no matter how controversial the issue, should be conducted within the framework of free discussion."

"Not only the history of the Bill of Rights should be taught, but contemporary issues it raises — such as debate over separation of church and state embodied in the First Amendment, and the privilege against self-incrimination as provided in the Fifth Amendment — should be discussed."

"Now is the time to help our young people to become aware of the risks, the privileges and the personal demands on freedom," the letter goes on.

Stressed here

Edward Morgan says the faculties and administration of Daly City schools have followed this program for many years.

Morgan notes that in U. S. History, taught in the junior year of high school, and in Civics, taught in the senior year, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights are stressed and discussed.

Board's reason

According to the state board, in some areas education about these things appears to be neglected.

Their letter states, "The situation in some communities indicates that too many Americans have never understood the Bill of Rights."

". . . the present civil rights crisis reveals how sketchy has been our education in this field."

"Young Americans facing communist indocrination pressure ought to be able to counter with an affirmation of their democratic faith."

Beverage license fees returned here

The city of Daly City has received $5,434 as its six-month share of the fees paid by holders of alcoholic beverage licenses.

The payment was made by the state department of alcoholic beverage control which allocates 90 per cent of all license fee money back to individual cities and counties to be used for the many branches of services offered by local governments. The remaining 10 per cent goes into the state general fund.

The most recent payment was for the six-month period ending Aug. 31, 1963. San Mateo County as a whole, including unincorporated areas, received $75,915 for the period.

A package store beer and wine license costs the owner $37, with a yearly renewal fee of $12. A general on-sale tavern license costs $6,580 originally, with an annual renewal fee of $580, while a beer and wine only tavern licenses costs $234, renewable yearly for $84.

WELLS FARGO OFFICER Robert J. Carew has been promoted to assistant manager at the Pacifica office of Wells Fargo Bank, replacing James P. Tice who is being transferred to a Palo Alto branch. The 30-year-old banker and his wife, Codette, have two children. They reside in Daly City at 7 Crestview Avenue.

Crittendon meet set for Dec. 4

The North Peninsula Circle of the Florence Crittenden Home will hold its next meeting Dec. 4 at 10:30 a.m. in the War Memorial Community Center.

Neighborhood group to hold membership me

Magic and general merriment will mark the membership meeting of the Merced Heights Neighborhood Association Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Jose Ortega School, 400 Sargent St.

Jan Ballan, who has made professional appearances over the world, will present his "Chattering Magician" to the group.

Guests will also hear a Chamber Ensemble of musicians of the Merced Heights neighborhood led by Mrs. Amy Simpson.

Wesley Slade of 500 Head St. is the recently elected president.

Slade, a relocation specialist in the public housing program of Alameda County, replaced Don Glover, who moved to Washington, D.C.

Merced Heights Association was formed in October ,1961, to encourage its citizens to cooperate in the successful integration of the region.

Maintaining its balance of all races, the neighborhood, bounded by Junipero Serra, Brotherhood Way, Orizaba, Ashton and Holoway Sts., has continued its first-class character during the transition.

New court is dedicated

The new Municipal Court Center at 1050 Old Mission Rd. in South San Francisco, was formally dedicated Sunday by members of the county Board of Supervisors and Judges of the North County Municipal Court.

The ceremonies included greetings by Judge Charles Becker, invocation by Father Thomas McMahon of All Souls Catholic Church, South San Francisco, and presentation of the American Flag by Congressman J. Arthur Younger.

Other ceremonies included pledge by Municipal Judge F. J. deLarios, introduction by James B. Fitzgerald, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and dedication ceremony by Joseph Oeschger, Grand President of Native Sons of the Golden West.

Rabbi Herbert Morris of Congregation Judea, Daly City, gave the benediction.

Architects of the new court house are Bernard Nobler and Clement Chen, Jr., Redwood City. General contractor was Morris Daley, Inc., of Burlingame.

Total floor space is 32,500 square feet. The total cost was $431,335. The court house has three court roords, two judges chambers, a municipal court clerks offices, superior court clerks offices, law library, branch offices for the probation department and district attorney and rooms for the sheriff's department and prisoner holding rooms and deputy sheriff rooms.

Westmoor wanderings

By SHERRY ROSEN

Tantalizing temptation to tackle turkey is teasing tormented teens and teachers trapped in tedious textbooks of theory and technology.

However you slice it, tomorrow's turkey represents far more than either freedom or indigestion; to Rams, it is the beloved symbol of a two-day holiday from the hilltop.

And then there's that other great occasion celebrated by all heritage-conscious historians—the November 20 anniversary of the Gettysburg Address.

North Peninsula League Hails Westmoor Pigskin Champs, or, as the new book title will read, "The Year the Tigers Lost the Pennant."

Keys without locks are now being sported by upper, upper classmen. The status-symbol senior keys and charms were ordered last month.

Sleepy scholars were rudely aroused one day last week by the blatant buzz of the fire drill. Observant observers will observe that this mass exodus is a phenomenon that traditionally occurs on the first sunny day after a typical Westlake downpour.

Greyhounds and Rams don't mix, at least not after 3:00 p.m. At any rate, the WHS schedule has been recently rearranged so that the dogs can deliver the sheep in time to pick up the various other assorted Tigers, Sharks, and Indians in the JUHS District.

I.D. photos which somehow never reached the classrooms were distributed to a mass of outstretched hands in the Little Theater. No major tramplings or swoons over photogenic results were reported, however.

Vivacious Big Leaders on Campus (B.L.O.C.?) had a heyday last week in front of the Rambler cameras. Snapping shots of WHS clubs and organizations, which took two days, was also responsible for early dismissal, a benovolent bonus not to be lightly regarded.

Ingenuity is not to be sneered at, even when used to bluff through a test. Surely someone will appreciate the wit and originality of the junior journalist, who, when asked to give the three types of make-up, in desperation painstakingly penned, "lipstick, powder, and rouge."

Not a single Thinker was left behind when the third-year French classes and several art classes journeyed to the Palace of Fine Arts last week to view the Rodin exhibit on display.

Guitars will grace Room 40 this afternoon as Spanish Clubbers and adviser Norman MacDonald gather for their second annual Spanish hootenanny, affectionately labeled "Canten Juntos Con El Meestro," which translates to "Sing Along with MacDonald."

Guadalupe PTA meet set for December 12

The next regular meeting of the Guadalupe PTA will be held on Thursday, Dec. 12, at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium. The program will feature Santa Claus, who will present the children of the school with candy canes.

The children will then favor us with Christmas selections. After the Christmas program, Miss Virginia Kent, our principal, will demonstrate one of the new audio teaching aids.

DC Rec Dept junior teens elect officers

The six junior high teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department have completed the election and appointment of their nine member executive councils to plan and govern club activities for the coming year.

The clubs and their executive councils are as follows:

Bayshore Bovines: Tony Uribarri, chairman; Marta McMullen, Michael Lawler, Mary Ann Hauss, Kathy Langer, Dian Dabney, Chris Cisneros, Kiyoshi Charlton and Carl Bevels.

Majestics: Tony Schrock, chairman; Sandy and Linda Torrez, Harry Conklin, Art Garcia, Terri Rivera, Jan Bantique, Arlene McKay and Jim Laird.

Telstars: Ken Brenk, chairman; Eddie Alvard, Nancy Brachman, Paul Henninger, Mike Boss, Larry Sullivan, Mario Sandoval, Vic Yerby, Peggy Medlock, George Boitano, Larry Yamaron, Marlene Blair, Debbie Le Grande, Marty Lorvin and Joanne Holmberg.

Casualiers: Barry Perrone, Steve Dodge, Elena Moura, Tony Guzzo, Gerry Baldassarre, Ron Sanguinetti, Barbara Edgman, Lynn Hillman and Gary Ceccato.

Know Names: Lance LeRee, Bill Basenett, Karen Carillo, Terri Garcia, Mickey Nihil, Charles Frieburg, Elaine Chiosso and Linda Baffico.

WHS students to attend civil rights conference

WHS seniors Marilyn Derham and Evelyn Goodell demonstrated concern for what can be done to resolve today's racial situation by attending San Francisco's first Women's Conference on Civil Rights last Tuesday, November 19.

Meeting at the Clay Street YMCA with more than 120 delegates from women's clubs and churches, the girls learned how and where they might start channeling their interest in this pressing issue of civil rights.

Topics discussed pertaining to minority groups in the Bay Area included the general civil rights situation, employment and housing, what can be accomplished through political action, a Marshall Plan for minorities, integration in schools, and juvenile crime and delinquency.

Viewing racial prejudices as "our biggest domestic and political problem," Evelyn and Marilyn, as did many others, expressed a willing desire to "do something." Proposed solutions were offered by persons from the employment, housing, education, and community relations fields. One suggestion indicated taking part in "Write for Rights Day," when all persons are urged to write to them to vote in favor of civil rights bills proposed by President Kennedy.

Addresses were given by numerous persons, including San Francisco Police Chief Cahill, Negro civil rights and political leader Percy Moore, representatives from the California legislature, and a participant in President Kennedy's recent national conference on women's rights.

Now aware of the problem of 'sophisticated prejudice" in San Francisco, those present at the conference have been introduced to methods for combatting local inequality and misunderstanding.

Obituaries

Edith Peart

Funeral services were held Nov. 22 at W. C. Lasswell & Co. mortuary for Edith Peart, 6280 Mission street, Daly City, who died Nov. 19 in San Mateo. Burial was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

A native of Indiana, and resident of Daly City 35 years, she was the wife of the late Ralph W. Peart, mother of Mrs. Mildred L. Peters of San Mateo, sister of Chester L. Patton of Canton, Ohio and niece of George Kreger of Sturgis, Michigan.

Elizabeth Drago

Funeral services were held Nov. 22, at W. C. Lasswell & Co., followed by requiem mass at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church for Elizabeth Drago, 108 Citrus avenue, Daly City, who died Nov. 20 in San Francisco. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery. A native of New York and resident of California 58 years, she was the wife of Charles Drago, sister of Mrs. Nora Cereghino, Mrs. Frances LeBrun, Thomas and Frank Quillinan and the late Dennis Quillinan.

Ryan says teachers need political strength

"Teachers could exert a much greater influence on education in California if they would organize strongly and exert themselves politically," said State Assemblyman Leo Ryan, D-27th District, here last week.

Addressing a meeting of the Jefferson High School Faculty Association Nov. 18, Ryan contended teachers have a right and a responsibility to take part in politics and controversy.

Both education and government in general would benefit from greater teacher participation, he stated.

At present, teachers are not very well represented in Sacramento, Ryan pointed out.

When asked if school administrators are better represented in the state capitol than the teachers who far out-number them, the assemblyman replied, "Definitely."

John Fernandez in fighter squadron

John F. Fernandes, aviation electrician's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Crisci of 560 Arguello Blvd., Pacifica, is serving with Fighter Squadron 111 home-based in San Diego, Calif.

The squadron, flying the F8D "Crusader" jet, recently left San Diego for a tour of duty in the Western Pacific.

DECOR SALE — Stevie Hoedt is trying to reach for the top of the Christmas tree that Mrs. Robert Bell just created for Our Lady of Mercy Parish "Christmas Decoration" sale. Worried if he will knock the tree over is Debbie Bell. The sale, a pre-Festival event, will be held on Sunday, Dec. 1 after all the Masses. Funds will go to the benefit of Our Lady of Mercy School.—(Photo by Charles Bladgon).

☆ Here's $660,000 for the Jefferson High School District ☆

Because new school facilities were needed, you voted to authorize your school district to issue bonds. Bank of America and its associated investment dealers purchased these bonds to give your district the money it needs.

Interest rates on the bonds were decided by competitive bidding—a procedure required by law to obtain the lowest average interest rate for the taxpayer under current bond market conditions. Interest rates also reflect the credit rating of your district.

We, at Bank of America, bid on virtually all municipal bonds issued in the State — because we have confidence in the future of California and districts like yours.

One thing that gives us confidence is that you and your neighbors wisely recognize the demonstrated truth: good schools benefit all citizens—those with and without children alike. The quality of a community parallels the quality of its schools. This is reflected in property values through the years.

Bank of America and its associates are proud to play a key role in the development of your schools.

You may be interested in buying Jefferson Union High School District Bonds as a personal investment. They offer the advantage of tax exempt income and are available in denominations of $1,000. You can purchase these bonds through your local Bank of America branch—or contact our Municipal Bond Department in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

NEW ISSUE

$660,000 Jefferson Union High School District, San Mateo County, California, 5%, 3%, 3¼% and 3½% 1962 School Bonds, Series B. These bonds are being reoffered to investors to yield from 2.25% to 3.60%, according to maturity 1965—1988. These bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of legality by our attorneys, a copy of whose legal opinion will be printed on each bond. A circular relating to these bonds is available from Bank of America. Names of other underwriters will be furnished on request.

Cold comfort, sniff, sniff

We can just see Eve, attired in her modish fall figleaf (and goosepimpples), wiping her nose with another, and handing the apple to Adam.

"Eat it, dear," she is saying. "It will keep the doctor away."

Since there weren't any doctors at the time, this was, of course, a figure of speech which implied that the Forbidden Fruit might fix his cold. As we know, this isn't what happened, since their descendants in the U.S. alone are afflicted with from 400 million to one billion colds a year. Children, on the average, suffer five to ten cold a year, their elders from four to five. The cost, in lost production, lost wages and medical bills (including the $500 million spent annually for cold and cough remedies) is estimated at $5 billion.

This, in a word, is what our own domestic "cold war" is about — and we do not appear to be winning. In spite of the millions spent each year by the Government and the nation's pharmaceutical companies on research, the mortality rate from respiratory disease tripled in the U.S. between 1949 and 1959!

What is called for is intensive, broad spectrum research, since the best scientific minds now agree that the symptoms of the common cold are caused by any number of different viruses, possibly 100 or more.

But, while we wait for that elusive cure, we are somewhat better off than Adam and Eve. We can dress for the weather, avoid chilling and unnecessary exposure and guard against becoming overheated. In the meantime, there are no better precautions.

What is your bookmaker? Where do you place your bets these days? Is he reliable for the payoff when you win any of those bets?

What? Booking is illegal, you say? Sure, it's illegal. We know it's illegal. In fact, probably nobody knows it's illegal better than we do.

The fact remains, though, that bookmaking is wrong because there is a law on the books saying that it is wrong. This is section 337a of the California Penal Code, to be exact.

Booking is against the law in much the same way alcohol was against the law during prohibition. Then, the good burghers still lifted a friendly glass, just as now they continue to lay two dollars or more on the nose of Native Dancer or the arm of Sandy Koufax or the signal-calling of Y. A. Tittle.

And so the citizenry will go their own way and continue to bet.

And the courts, notably the Supreme Court, continue to go their way, also. Their way is to protect the rights of each citizen, even at the expense of the majority of the citizens.

This adds up to the dichotomy, for the police, of being damned if you do and damned if you don't. The police are charged with enforcing a largely unpopular law—and so they can expect little help from the citizenry, especially the bettors.

Where the police are doubly hampered concerns the innuendoes that result from non enforcement of this law and/or from the public's knowledge that books are operating and that the police have not stopped them. The implications sometimes concern payoffs to the police by the bookies for permission to run.

We can and do deny such implications. In defense against the innuendoes the police will spend an inordinate amount of time on such investigations — sometimes at the expense of other pressing work.

And, too, in the all pervading climate concerning civil rights, we all know that the police are not allowed to wiretap for evidence. At the first level, this is a "good" thing. Pragmatically, it denies the police the use of the same methods used by the law breaker.

So we have this—the public will bet, the law is unpopular, excess time is spent on the investigations, and the proper investigative tools are denied the investigators.

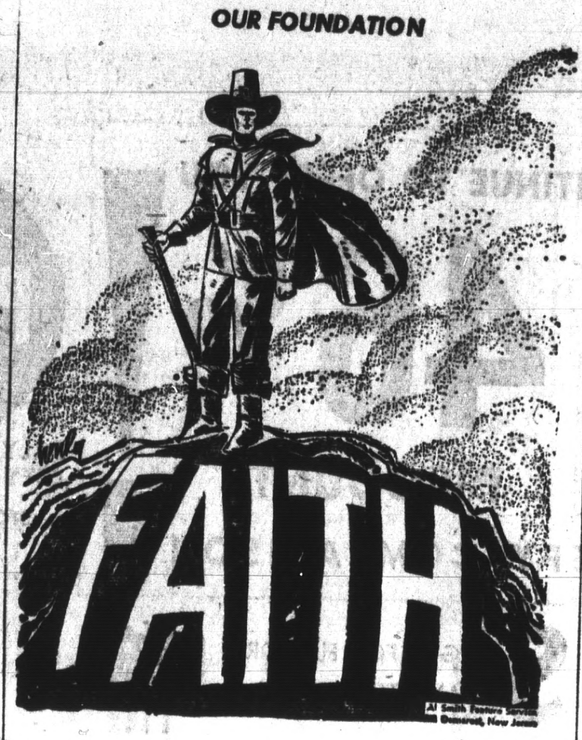

New York City is about to vote on legalized bookmaking. They propose to derive revenue from a number of authorized, electronically operated betting locations, run as a licensed, regulated city effort. Operators will be, if the measure is voted in, screened and licensed.

We should perhaps study the New York measure with interest. Maybe it will work. It might be easier to prosecute illegal bookmaking as a license violation (with the possibility of a criminal charge also), than it is at present, with the attendant restrictions upon the police.

It would certainly allow for the honest, exact, and unfailing payoff to winning bettors. We know of one man who claims he made a bet in a nearby city recently. He bet $25 at 25 to 1 odds that Los Angeles would take the World Series in four straight games. The Dodgers won, but our man did not—the bookie didn't pay off. (And, to point up the problem that the police are faced with, the man will not give us the bookie's number!)

An expert might reply, to expressed interest in the New York thing, that legalized gambling brings organized crime with it. We submit that the problem equates with illegal gambling in this respect, but that it might be prevented by severe regulation. Would anyone like to bet on that statement?

Letter to editor

Cops aren't enemies

Editor:

Most of the American people do not know that the city and community police force now constitute one of the most important remaining obstacles to the gradual, insidious, and at first invisible, establishment of the Communist police state. The local working police are the best friends everywhere, of those who are anti-Communist and against total government, because they constantly run up againsts all of the dirty tactics of the Communists, and the dupes and allies of the Communists, in their respective areas.

For this reason there has been a subtle, but now an increasingly bolder effort, to harass and discredit local police forces and their individual members, going on in this country for more than a decade. The CBS television show, The Biography Of A Bookie Joint, which was designed to make all working "cops" look like grafting bums, is an example.

This support of their local police by all good citizens everywhere is going to become especially important now that Commy-inspired racial riots are getting to be a regular part of the American scene. The police will be crucified by the liberals, in the press and over the air, for practically everything they do in the line of duty.

You can be sure that the Communists and their liberal dupes will not leave to chance the supply of fodder for their mills of distortion. The police chief of Birmingham was doing a superb job of maintaining law and order in the midsst of a hot situation, while letting thousands of negroes march and hundreds of white people protest all they wished. He merely set up a line of police, protected by their police dogs, to keep the two groups apart. And peace was maintained day after day, while the level heads of the city, both white and colored, got together and tried to solve the problems underlying the turmoil. But this was the last thing that the instigators of the trouble wanted; and when incidents didn't arise, they had to be created. While cameras were poised and ready to catch the show at the right instant, one or more hotheads or dupes among the negroes deliberately kicked one or more of the dogs. The result was a picture plastered in papers all over the United States, of a policeman barely holding onto a dog which was straining at the leash to attack a negro among the Birmingham "civil rights" advocates in Birmingham.

If you have never wondered what it would be like not to have your local police to protect your homes and your property and your lives — if you have never talked to some of these new American citizens who have escaped from behind the "iron curtain" where they had a Communist police state; we can arrange for such a confrontation at a public gathering right here in Daly City. If a sufficient number of concerned citizens express an interest by telephone or letter to the editor of this paper, the writer will secure the service of an experienced speaker on life behind the Iron Curtain. And if you are one of those who believe it can't happen in America—it is happening.

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

Some of us are prone to think of Martin Luther King Jr. as a professional agitator. In truth he is the minister of a large church and president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

A collection of his sermons has been published under the title "The strength to love." In it he reveals that his approach to race problems is spiritual. "Christ has furnished the spirit and motivation and Ghandi has furnished the method."

Rev. King's spiritual approach will never permit surrender. "Every time I have felt that I could no longer bear my heavy burdens and have been tempted to retreat to a more quiet and serene life ... something comes to strengthen and sustain my determination."

It leads him to see the hand of God in everything that happens. "God has been profoundly real to me in reecnt years. In the midst of outer dangers, I have felt an inner calm ... I have heard an inner voice saying "Lo I will be with you.'"

Because of his spiirtual approach to his leadership of the fight for Negro equality, Dr. King equates his ordeals with those of the prophets of history. "So like the Apostle Paul I can now humbly yet proudly say 'I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.'"

But Martin Luther King Jr. is no fuzzy, half-frenzied spiritualist. His book shows him to be a learned theologian and a logical thinker. His words are well chosen. In each sermon his talent is used to make his intent clear.

The "Strength of Love" may be found in both libraries, 275 Southgate and 6351 Mission.

Used car buying takes good knowledge of value

A good automobile, used or new, provides transportation and gives pleasure to its owner. Automobile manufacturers and reputable dealers urge the public to shop carefully, select a reliable dealer, get the facts and get ALL THE TERMS in writing.

The customer should share the responsibility with the dealer in a used car purchase. The majority of used cars, several or more years old, as sold "as is" which means that the buyer accepts the car in the condition it is in at the time of sale and at his own risk. He must remember that when he is buying a used car he is buying a car that someone else did not want. The used car may have been traded in by its former owner simply because he wanted a new car and it may be in excellent condition. On the other hand, the car may have been traded in because the owner was faced with an extensive overhaul.

Most people are unable to judge the condition of a used car and must depend entirely upon the reliability of the dealer. A reliable dealer makes it perfectly clear to the customer the condition of the car he is considering buying. If the dealer has to go to considerable reconditioning expense he will have to pass the costs on to the customer. The dealer cannot be expected to lose money on a car, nor can he be expected to assume the risk of a new car guarantee.

However, unless the used car purchaser has been the victim of outright misrepresentation or high pressure sales talk, there is no excuse for him not to understand the condition of the car he is buying. A reliable dealer will permit a prospective car buyer to thoroughly examine any car he is contemplating buying. He will let him drive it to see how it runs, how the brakes, the clutch and the gearshift work. He can ask all the questions he wants to. Too often a buyer fails to ask enough questions about the former owner of the car, how it was used, where it came from and why the car was traded in. A buyer of a used car should check the rubber on the car. Has the car been in a wreck? Do the body and fenders show evidence of collision? How about engine compression? Valves? Transmission? Water leaks? The speedometer may have been turned back. Allow 10,000 miles for each model year of age for a non-business car. It is wise to have the car checked by an independent mechanic for a small fee to get a fair appraisal of the car's condition and how much overhaul it might need.

A buyer cannot expect new car performance from a used car nor can he expect the car not to need any more repairs than a new car. The purchaser of a used car can expect some trouble unless the dealer guarantees in writing that the car is in perfect condition and will not need repairs.

Be on your guard against such advertisements as "name your own terms," "we beat any deal in town," "we undersell." Beware of the "bait" advertiser. If you answer an ad on a car advertised in glowing terms and then are told that the car is in terrible condition and you are offered another car at a higher price—look elsewhere! The fact that the car is "repossessed" does not make it better or cheaper than any other used car. When such cars are sold direct to the public, they are sold generally at competitive market prices.

No used car is properly described as "perfect' 'or "never driven." Remember that a "new car guarantee' should mean a manufacturer's guarantee; that a "free driving trial" should mean a trial without any obligation; that "exchange trial" means the privilege of exchange.

Shop around before buying and compare prices and guarantees. Read carefully any contract you are asked to sign. There is no law that prevents a prospective buyer from reading the purchase order and the contract before he signs and from checking over any points of difference between it and what the salesman has told him. Remember, verbal promises by the salesman are NOT backed by the dealer. Be sure that all blank spaces in the contract are filled in or crossed out as required by law. Get a completely filled out copy of the contract at the time of signing.

The Better Business Bureau is mosly concerned with the advertising of used cars and provable fraud upon selling. An analysis of the complaints submitted by used car buyers reveal that misleading advertising claims, poor condition of cars, limited guarantees and financing problems cause the majority of the complaints.

NPL names top gridiron players

The Westmoor High School Rams topped the North Peninsula League's 1963 All-League Football Team with eight players named to the honor.

The selection was made last week by the six NPL coaches who piloted their clubs through five weeks of rugged league play and four weeks of pre-season contests.

South San Francisco followed Westmoor with seven Warriors in the top players roll-call and El Camino was third with six of their Colts on the list.

Winning Rams

The Rams lead the NPL this year — as they did in 1962 — with a perfect five wins and no losses in league battles.

South San Francisco took the league's number two place with a 4-1 win-loss record followed by El Camino in the number three spot with 3-2.

Top players

Bruce Hix, Westmoor's remarkable quarterback and the league's top passer with better than 450 yards gained through the air to his credit, was named to the prime offensive team.

Ed Larios, Jefferson's speedy end and the NPL's number one pass-receiver — some 20 passes snagged for 380 yards or better, also went to the offense.

Dave Mahoney, the husky 5-11, 205-pound Westmoor end who is first in the league's statistical lineup for yards rushed —some 470 yards, went to fullback position on the same team.

Tom Summy of Oceana, runner-up to Mahoney for total NPL yards rushed—410, was named to the offense halfback slot along with Greg Jones of SSF and John Lasota of El Camino.

Summy carried the ball 60 times in NPL tilts to go the 410 distance.

He made three TD's for his shark outfit.

Marty Coil of Terra Nova was placed on the honorable mention list as quarterback.

Coil shares the honor with team mate Larry Ferguson named as a defensive halfback.

Ex-end Coil turned quarterback for the 1963 season.

He is credited with five passes in the NPL series which were good for Tiger touchdowns.

His record includes a wallopping 76-yard pass play during the Westmoor game Oct. 18.

Coil passed 35 times during NPL contests and completed 18 for 251 yards.

On the receiving end, he took in 19 aerials for a gain of 136 yards in five NPL tussles.

A five-man offensive backfield was selected by the coaches as a choice of four seemed impossible.

Twenty - three men were picked for offense and defense. Fifteen of these were unanimous choices.

Twelve players were given honorable mention.

"Player of the Year"

Bruce Hix was named unanimously "Player of the Year" last week by the area's local sports writers.

Box Sexton, El Camino pilot, was chosen by the same group as "Coach of the Year" for his work with the Colt club and the upsetting performance of his squad during the season.

Pete Matisi, Westmoor's head coach and chief strategist, was named by the writers for his handling and training of the outstanding Westmoor machine.

The coaches, themselves, refused to pick a "player of the year" as is customary with most all-league selections.

Their consensus was that there was no equitable way to make this kind of evaluation among themselves.

This is the first year the NPL Football Association has picked its own all-league team.

The chore was formerly left to the sports editors of the local newspapers.

Coaches meet

The six North Peninsula League coaches making the selections were Joe McGrath of Jefferson; Pete Matisi, Westmoor; Jesse Jones, Oceana; Gene McKamey, Terra Nova; Ray DeJong, South San Francisco; and Bob Sexton, El Camino.

12 Daly City players

Ed Larios of Jefferson, end (offense); in his senior year. Rated the NPL's outstanding pass-receiver. Captured three touchdown passes during the NPL season. Completed a total of 20 for a gain of 382 yards.

The teamwork of Larios and Rich Cuadra (all-league honorable mention), proved dependable for the Indian club.

In his final 1963 NPL game, Larios scored the two Jefferson touchdowns against Oceana on 26-yard and 15-yard tosses.

Marc Mallinger of Westmoor, end (offensive); in his senior year. A unanimous choice. Received 10 passes during the NPL season for a gain of 188 yards.

The Rams' first NPL blood, Terra Nova's, drawn by Mallinger on a 10-yard pass from all-league Bruce Hix.

Bob Hansen of Westmoor, tackle (offense); in his senior year. A unanimous choice. With all-leaguers Hansen, Dan Hartman, and Bob Van Tassell, Westmoor went 1,163 yards over the ground against NPL opponents.

Hansen was named to the 1963 all-league defense team as well.

He was picked last year for the 1962 all-league second team.

Bob Van Tassell of Westmoor, guard (offense); in his senior year. Outstanding in the Westmoor-Jefferson duel when the Rams went 283 yards and made 13 first downs.

Also credited with a recovery in the same game leading to a Ram score.

Westmoor won the battle, 35-6.

Bruce Hix of Westmoor, quarterback (offense); in his senior year. A unanimous choice. Rated as one—if not the one — of the outstanding players and athletes in NPL's history.

This is Hix's second nomination to all-league honors. He was named to the NPL first team last year.

Hix was picked unanimously by area sports-writers as the NPL "Player of the Year."

He carried the ball 29 times during the NPL circuit for 191 yards. He sent the ball through the air 42 times, found his man 21 times and gained 453 yards.

Hix's passes raised the Rams' score six times in the NPL season.

He made three running touchdowns and five points-after-touchdown.

Hix shared with Ron Baker the "most valuable Westmoor player" award for his performance in the Ram-South San Francisco contest.

Dave Mahoney of Westmoor, fullback (offense); in his senior year. A unanimous choice. Rated as the NPL's leading ball-carrier, with an NPL record of 470 rushing yards in 52 carries. Five of those carries ended in TD's.

He is also credited with eight points made after touchdowns.

Mahoney was picked by major bay-area sportswriters as Northern California's "Back of the Week" for his agility against Serra High School Oct. 11.

In the affray, Mahoney romped 56 yards for one touchdown, three yards for another and put across one PAT.

Westmoor won 20-0.

He was picked as "Player of the Week" by KGO-Channel 7 sportscasters for his prowess in the Jefferson-Westmoor game Nov. 1.

During the Ram and Indian fracas, Mahoney carried the ball six times for a gain of 68 yards and two scores. He also accounted for three PAT's.

Mahoney was on the NPL honorable mention list in 1962.

Dan Hartman of Westmoor, tackle (defense); in his junior year. A unanimous choice.

Westmoor's biggest (6-2, 210-pounds) player. Was tabbed early in the season as one of the most valuable elements of the Westmoor line.

With all-leaguers Hansen and Van Tassell, Hartman's performance on the Ram wall kept it tight and solid.

The Westmoor defense held NPL opponents to a gain of 834 yards against them.

Rams were outrushed in only two NPL contests—SSF and El Camino.

Outstanding game — statistically — the 41-12 victory over Terra Nova. TN Tigers moved 58 yards against the Rams.

Ron Baker of Westmoor, linebacker (defense); in his junior year. A unanimous choice. Made the honorable mention list last year as a sophomore. Rated excellent on defense and offense.

Carried the ball 33 times in NPL play for 210 yards. Received the ball on passes five times for a gain of 129 yards.

Shared the outstanding and most valuable player award with Hix for a performance in the South San Francisco grid battle.

Baker's two caught passes gained 35 yards. He carried the ball seven times for another 52 yards.

Westmoor won the game, 26-19.

Leo Gotelli of Jefferson, honorable mention for offensive halfback; in his senior year. Credited with two touchdowns and one PAT during the Jefferson NPL season.

Made 214 yards rushing in 38 carries against NPL opponents.

An outstanding Indian veteran (he averaged 8 yards per carry in 1962), Gotelli ranked as a mainstay of the Jeff team in pre-season speculation and fulfilled the promise.

His outstanding run of the five-game NPL play—an 85 yard kickoff return in the opener of the Terra Nova meeting good for the score.

Jefferson beat the TN Tigers 25-12.

Rich Cuadra of Jefferson, honorable mention for quarterback; in his junior year. Jefferson's best passer.

Cuadra took to the air 52 times againsts NPL foe, completed 30 throws for 367 yards.

A 42-yard Cuadra pass to Larios gave Jefferson its first NPL score in the South San Francisco game Oct. 18.

He followed with another to Indian Paul Howe for Jefferson's final 13-point score.

Best performance in the Jeff-Westmoor game Nov. 1 — six passes completed for a gain of 99 yards.

This was Cuadra's first year with the Indian varsity.

He was the chief signal-caller for the school's frosh-soph squad in 1962.

Al Banfield of Jefferson, honorable mention for center; in his senior year. The slight (175-pounds) Banfield was a one-year veteran of the Jeff varsity squad with another year's experience behind him as a frosh-soph player.

Oceana with four

Teamed with Tom Summy of Oceana, Ted Brodd was named to the honorable mention squad as a defensive end along with Steve McCaughey and Hoppy Andrews.

This is Andrews second year on the NPL honorable mention list.

McCaughey is credited with two TD's in NPL play; with 122 yards gained in 42 ball-carries; 31 attempted passes with 14 completed for 133 yards.

Xmas basketball classic

Entry blanks for the second annual Daly City Yuletide Basketball Classic sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department will be available Dec. 2 at the boy's P.E. departments of Westmoor and Jefferson and from the Recreation Department office.

This tournament is open to all high school boys attending school in Daly City or living in Daly City and not competing on varsity or 30s basketball teams.

The tournament will be single elimination with a consolation bracket for teams defeated in the first round.

All teams entered are guaranteed a minimum of two games.

The tournament will run Monday, Thursday and Friday nights of the two week Christmas holiday period.

All games will be played in the War Memorial Community Center gym beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained from the Recreation Department at PL 5-0850 Ext. 35.

Speedway racing resumed

Racing resumes Nov. 27 at Jim McLennan's Champion Speedway.

Wednesday night's card will feature a destruction derby of more than 200 cars from the Bay Area.

A prize of $1,000 goes to the winning team, according to Jim McLennan.

The first heat—or smash—comes off at 7 p.m.

Teams are made up of four cars and drivers.

Indy-type sprint cars will be on the oval Sunday at the Champion Speedway in the last sprint race of the year.

Time trials start at 1:30 p.m. with main event scheduled for 2 p.m.

A 30-lap main event with four heat races and a trophy dash are scheduled.

Indy-type cars speed at better than 100 mph powered by a 400 horsepower plant.

Featured driver this Sunday will be Paul Jones—brother of famous Parnelli.

Shoot with care; handle gun with care

With various hunting seasons opening and closing around California and the crack of firearms heard in the land, many motorists are taking off on their weekends for a shot at this or that type of game.

Unfortunately, all too many of them are ending up accidentally shooting themselves or their fellow hunters.

You can make your first step in the right direction of hunting safety by knowing and heeding the regulations that govern the use of fire arms in hunting.

You can't use just any kind of a gun to hunt any kind of game.

Your second step will be to see that you never leave a loaded gun lying around your house, attempt to take one with you in your automobile, or leave one lying around your camp.

In fact, the wise hunter will see to it that a gun is never left unattended without first being unloaded.

When you have set out from camp and are hot in pursuit of the game you may carry a loaded gun. But you must carry it with caution.

Don't just sling it about your person in any old position, but always carry it so you can easily control the direction of the muzzle if you should happen to stumble or fall.

When you come to those fences that you have to get over or through, be sure that your gun is ahead of you and that the muzzle is pointed toward the ground.

Things can go wrong, too, in the very act of shooting.

There's always the eager hunter who will point his gun at anything, whether he's going to shoot it or not, just for the practice . . . then the gun goes off.

And there's the hunter who goes ahead and shoots at hard surfaces or at the surface of water, because he doesn't know any better.

Ranch annex is official

Daly City becomes one-third larger tomorrow.

On Wednesday, the Christen Ranch annexation to Daly City —largest of 43 annexations since the original incorporation in 1911—will become effective.

The 986-16-acre annexation will increase the size of Daly City by 20.3 per cent. Boundaries will icrease from 5.08 to 6.62 miles.

The Christen ranch area, to be called the "Serremonte" development, will be so planned for 320 acres of residential development, 190 acres of commercial development, nearly 200 acres of freeways and the rest in roads and parks.

This area will eventually house 21,000 people.

A weather-conditioned shopping center is planned, with concourse, open areas. Stores will open in a bazaar arrangement.

A split-level 225,000 square foot major department store is planned.

Projected for the development is one elementary school site, an auxiliary elementary school site and a high school site in the Jefferson districts.

In the South San Francisco district, which splits the land, is projected four elementary school sites and a junior high site.

Houses in the development will be town house, or split level attached and unattached types.

Library sites and thirteen acres of recreational areas are projected.

Lincoln pupils present play

As a forerunner of the holiday season, students from the fifth and sixth grade classes at Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, The Miracle Workers Drama Group, presented two plays before an audience of kindergarten and primary students Nov. 22.

In a style reminiscent of the simplicity of sets and costuming of the Shakespearian Theatre the play "The Brahman and the Tiger" was presented.

As Craig Paras, sixth grader from Room 16, narrated the story, the drama unfolded with Neir Goldman, from Mr. Pennings' class, as the vicious Tiger, and Bhl Pashek, as the frightened Brahman, from Mrs. Stubbs' room.

The judges in the case were played by Julia Heick, as the alligator; Susan Cribbs, the figtree; Joseph Van Zant, the camel; and Jeff Farrar, the lion; all from Mrs. Malone's Room13.

Doug Kern, played the buffalo; and Jim Green, the donkey who solved the problem. Both are students in Mrs. Stubbs' sixth grade.

"Rumpelstilskin," a favorite fairy tale, was presented by the following students: Rumpelsilskin, Tom Jacobson; The King, James Cronin; Maysel, the Princess, Patricia Putnam; Rodney, Dan Crosbie; Francis, Bob Payne; George, Richard Gurtner; Robert, Mike Egan; Lucy, Sharon Hyman; and Lenore, Barbara Anderson.

Train teachers at Lincoln

Five new student teachers from the Teacher Training Department at San Francisco State College, arrived at Abraham Lincoln Elementary School Nov. 12.

Mrs. Arleen Byers, first level, has as her student teacher Jim Kimbell. In Mrs. Kathryn Gerdes, second level is Mrs. Laura Fong. Vincent Cortese is training in Room 13 with Mrs. Dorothy Malone, fifth grade. Mrs. Lea Fox, third level, has Miss Peggy Zahn and Michael Pennings, Room 17, has Art Muskovitz.

Camp Fire Girls visit plant shop

Enthusiasm for gardening has come to Camp Fire Girls Troop Lo-He-Go as a result of a visit to the Podesta Baldocchi Plant Shop in San Francisco.

John Hepner, shop manager, guided troop members through the pot room with its many potted plants, the patio where outdoor materials are displayed and the green house with its 1,000 small plants.

Troop members are: Donna Aquesti, Corinne Berman, Debbie Bercovich, Maureen Keasy, Julie Johnson, Jill Liebowitz and Pamela Wendell.

Troop leaders are Mrs. Lennart Johnson and Mrs. Leonard Leibowitz.

Linda Mar school poster contest winners announced

Pacifica, all the way from Pacific Heights right on down to Linda Mar, is wearing a colorful poster look as the result of a poster contest held at Linda Mar School. These budding artists were judged by the cooperation of Otis Strong, past president of the Guild, and Lillian Neathrey, award winner, who has already had a successful showing of her work.

The posters proclaim Linda Mar School Book Fair days—Dec. 5, 6 and 7, during which time thousands of books, ranging from pre-school to adult, will be offered for sale, priced from 25c and up.

Winners of the contest, who will be receiving books as prizes, are: Grades 1, Vivian George; 2, Sheri West; 3, Duane Lutsko; 4, Tonya Houg; 5, Susan Petersen; 6, Keith Willard; 7, Judy Hawkes; 8, Maureen Kelley.

The theme of the Fair is "Books Need Homes, Homes Need Books." Everyone is invited to browse. Helen Schellenberg, Pacifica authoress, will be on hand Thursday, Dec. 5, with her newly-published book "Song of the Ocean," a story of teenagers. Here is your chance for an autographed copy.

Sanitation meeting is reset for Dec. 9

The meeting of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District, scheduled for Monday, was adjourned until Dec. 9, according to engineer-manager Robert Bernicchi.

Bill S. Turner serves on destroyer

Bill S. Turner, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner of 227 Manor Dr., Pacifica, serving aboard the destroyer USS Trathen, participated in exercise "Flying Moor" Oct. 21-26 in the Eastern Pacific.

Ben Franklin Rally Boys 1st appearance

Ben Franklin Rally Boys under the leadership of George Poulos, Captain, made their first public appearance as a color guard unit at the recent Ben Franklin PTA meeting. Mr. Tom Murray, faculty sponsor of the Rally Boys gave the character thought for the evening Following the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Albert Altman, President, the Daly City Community Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Patti Stolz, rendered a delightful program for the audience. Several numbers were sung by the group and thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

Following the musical portion of the group a panel discussion was held, moderated by Mr. Harry Aronson, Principal, in which the problems of teen-age guidance and discipline were discussed. Participating on the panel in addition to the Principal were Mr. Sid Smith, Mr. Jack Danielson, Mr. Vern Mara and Student body President, Tina Smith and Vic Yerby, Vice-President. Taking an active part from the floor were students Mike Calderola, George Paulos, Wirt Lewis, Greg Raymond and Geoff Becker. Problems which were discussed at length, and appeared to create the highest interest were centered around the limits or expectations of the parents, encouraging more active participation in the physical education program, increasing of teacher authority in the classroom, fads, and how far the parents should go in fostering discipline by spanking, and the problem of the parents that do not care about their child's progress. Parents, teachers and students present voiced their opinion that the panel was most informative and one that should be repeated in the near future.

Longfellow PTA to hold bazaar

The Longfellow PTA will hold its annual bazaar on Tuesday, Dec. 3, in the school auditorium at 1:30 p.m. There will be many handmade articles for sale such as dish towels, pot holders, curler holders or knitting bags, hot plates, stuffed animals, sewing kits, doll cribs, doll clothes, decorative soaps, covered hangers, etc. Slices of cake and coffee will be sold to the parents after 1:30 p.m.

The children will have first choice during the morning for any purchases they might wish to make and then they will be able to buy cup cakes and crackerjack during the lunch period.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

The Christmas season is a family time when families round the area gather together to share the joys of the oliday season. In keeping with the spirit of the season he Daly City Recreation Department has planned a pecial Christmas festival featuring the drama class, reative dance class and community chorus.

Approximately fifty local adults and children will e taking part in the festival to be held on two evenings Dec. 19, 20) at the War Memorial Community Center.

Patti Stolz has written a script which will be narated by Ed Tomasello. The theme is built around hristmas, it's carols, customs, and legends with special ghting effects and dramatic stage settings.

Among the members of the community chorus who ill be featured as soloists are Alice Walker, Alvan eall, Larry Carver, John Hockett, Patti Stolz and ackie Madden, Memory Gomez, Susan Boyd, and Linda hayer will sing several selections.

Do make a note of the dates and plan to attend. nd do plan to bring the youngsters because we know ney will enjoy it too. The Memorial building holds 800 eople and we hope it will be filled to capacity both venings.

FASHION NEWS: The fall fashion season has only ust began and now we are already getting news of pring trends. Held last week was a meeting in Los ngeles heralding news of fashion trends for spring. Hemlines will not change, the trend in sleeveless ashions will continue and the big news is color. There s both brilliant and muted tones with unusual combinaions such as shocking pink and purple and blues and reens. The shift will be as popular as ever ranging from ull to straight lines. A welcome touch too is that the pring clothes will be more feminine with ruffles and nore fitted jackets. Remaining popular too is the full ength skirt that is meeting such popular favor for holiay entertaining as well as gala holiday parties.

Westlake Yule show Dec. 10 in Daly City

If you're not sure what the family wants for Christmas, bring them to the YWCA-Westlake Merchants Christmas show and program. A wide variety of Christmas gift items from the Westlake stores will be on display and while your family is pointing out what they want, you can drop a few hints at the same time.

In addition to the gift display, the show will feature traditional Christmas music performed by the adult chorus of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church under the direction of Delmar Severy and a community sing led by Patty Stolz, director of the community chorus. Susan Boyd, YWCA committee member, will accompany the singing.

A film on Israel and the Holy Land will be shown every 30 minutes and refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

Everyone is invited to attend this special program which will be held Dec. 10 from 7 'til 9 p.m. at the War Memorial Building in Daly City. Admission charge is $1.25 for adults, 50 cents for the 13-17-year-old and children 12 and under admitted free. Door prizes will be awarded every 30 minutes. Daly City Y-Wives will be treated to a special Christmas wrapping session at their Dec. 3 meeting. Carol Parrish will demonstrate how to decorate packages with fancy ribbons, papers and bows. The prettiest gifts under the tree can be yours if you come to the Lincoln Park Clubhouse this coming Tuesday from 9:30 to 11:30. Nursery facilities for two- to five-year-olds available.

The Pacifica bridge group has a new meeting place. As of Dec. 4 the group will gather at the Oddstad Park Clubhouse from 9:30 to 12 every Wednesday. If you don't play bridge, how about canasta, checkers, pinochle or rummy? There is a 50 cent fee. Nursery for two- to five-year-olds and coffee is provided free.

Christmas crafts and gift wrappings will highlight the Dec. 3 meeting of the Pacifica Y-Wives. Local teachers at English conference

"He knew a path that wanted walking;
He knew a spring that wanted drinking;
A thought that wanted further thinking;
A love that wanted re-renewing."
—Robert Frost

Employing the philosophy of this theme, which stresses fulfillment of duty and re-development, English teachers from throughout the United States will convene in San Francisco for the Fifty-Third Annual Meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English, November 28-30.

Techniques and concepts for the most effective teaching of English on elementary, secondary, and college levels will be explored. Areas covered will include grammar, composition, and literature.

Convention headquarters will be in the Masonic Auditorium with major meetings, banquets, and luncheons located at the Fairmont, Mark Hopkins, and Sheraton-Palace Hotels.

Experimental discussion groups on symbolism, poetry, adolescent literature, and the technique of fiction, will enable participants to explore these topics in greater depth than is possible in regular progarms.

Talks will be given by eminent authorities in the English field such as August Heckscher, former Special White House Consultant on the Arts; Robert Lowell, American poet and winner of the Pulitzer Prize; William Golding, author of "Lord of the Flies."

Special events of interest include a theatrical presentation by the Actor's Workshop of San Francisco, and a luncheon centering around the theme of "Shakespeare in the High School."

Additional activities will include presentation of films and teaching aids and a display of books to be used in the educational program.

Westmoor teachers attending the Convention will be Mr. Lee Doyle, Miss Charlotte Lee, Mrs. Ruth Brown, Mrs. Laurie Cahill, Mrs. Ruth Finnerty, Miss Judy Nelson, Mrs. Sylvia Segal, Miss Jean Lory, Mrs. Lois McNabb, Miss Janet Sannar, Miss Evelyn Slater.

Sitting in on special Journalism and Speech meetings will be "Rampage" adviser Mrs. Doris Lindfors and speech instructor Miss Maryann Holden respectively.

Witnesses plan training session

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society has announced that it will sponsor a three-day circuit assembly for Jehova's Witnesses in San Francisco, December 20-22. William Marks, 2442 39th Ave., presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation, said that 18 congregations from San Francisco and the peninsula will attend.

The Scottish Rite Auditorium will be used for the occasion and upwards of 2,000 delegates are expected.

Mr. Marks said, "Assemblies of this type are held semi-annually and the purpose is to train Jehovah's Witnesses in their ministry as well as provide practical instruction for applying Bible principles in our daily life."

The program will include morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations on conducting home Bible studies. There will also be a baptism of new ministers on Saturday, December 21st.

Teen clubs plan fun weekend

A variety of special activities has been planned for this weekend by a number of the junior high teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

The Casualiers have slated a bowling party and pot-luck dinner for Friday afternoon and evening.

The program will get underway with two hours of bowling at Serra Bowl from 4-6 p.m., followed by a pot-luck dinner and dance at Colma School from 6:30-8:30 p.m. A charge of 75c will be made for members and 90c for guests.

Members of the Majestics and their guests are planning on a visit to the evening Planetarium Show at Golden Gate Park on Friday evening. Those participating will leave the Lincoln Park Clubhouse at 7:30 p.m. with an approximate return at 10 p.m. Cost of the outing will be 35c for members and 45c for guests.

A swim party on Friday evening at the San Francisco YWCA is the Bayshore Bovines' special activity. Buses will leave Bayshore School at 6:30 p.m. and return at 9:30 p.m. for the two hour swim period. The 75c charge includes swimming, towel, transportation and insurance.

The Telstars' big activity for the month is a gigantic hayride and bar-b-q this Saturday evening.

Buses will leave Abe Lincoln School at 6:15 p.m. to take members to Shamrock Farms in Pacifica for the hayride. Buses will return participants to the Westlake Park Clubhouse for a bar-b-q and dance lasting to 10 p.m. The $1.00 cost for the evening includes the hayride, transportation, insurance and the barbecue.

Parents assisting with the activity include: Mr. and Mrs. John Duart, Mrs. Patricia Fairbourn, Mrs. Peter Cancilla, Mrs. Ronald Axenham, Mr. and Mrs. George Geras, Mrs. Robert Herring as well as Teen Club advisers Nancy Brown, Ron Levaco and Jim Oswald.

Three special joint activities are scheduled for all the clubs for the coming winter months. Dec. 28 will be a special executive council party night for members of each of six club councils.

Feb. 8 is the date set for the first joint Snow Trip. This all day trip to the Dodge Ridge-Pinecrest area will cost participants approximately $5.50 each.

The intra-club coed volleyball tournament won last year by the Imperials is scheduled for Feb. 29 at the War Memorial Community Center.

Membership drives for each of the clubs will open for one night Dec. 6 for the Imperials, Majestics and Casualiers and on Dec. 13 for the Telstars, Know Names and Bayshore Bovines.

FOOD SALE PLANS — Committee members for the Holy Angels Women's Guild food sale Dec. 1 (from left), Mrs. Leslie Moran, Mrs. Thomas Lehane, Mrs. Phillip Bell and Mrs. Donald Holsten. The sale will be held at the parish hall from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"Christmas Carol" plays in Pacifica

One more actor is needed to round out the cast of "A Christmas Carol," it was announced today by Gene Merwin, director of the Pacifica Players second annual Christmas play.

"The actor I seek should be a young man preferably with some stage experience from school or other little theatre group," Marwin said. But even a fellow without experience can take this interesting role. It is short and not too difficult, but one of the important characters in this story of Scrooge the miser who finally helps his clerk at the Christmas season."

Merwin plans an unusual presentation of the 120-year-old Charles Dickens tale, with special staging and lighting effects. The play will be presented evenings on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13 and 14, and at a matinee on Sunday, Dec. 15. It will be given at the Oddstad Community Center, Crespie Dr., one mile from Coast Highway 1.

A newcomer to the group, Ed Langhorne, has been cast as Marley's ghost, Merwin said. Others are Fred Stone, Bob Anderson, James Chandler, Nancy Greer, Arnold Turner, Ronald Mendez, Veronica Greer, Kenneth Marks, Linda Rainey, Margaret Mendez, Lori Lind, Kelly Turner, Everett Hatch, Sally Parish, Mark Collins, Cecil Ellis, John Lew and Ricardo Mendez.

The supporting cast includes Debbie Merwin, Debra Ellis, Sally Wright, Sheila May Ellis, Cynthia Greer and Michael Turner.

Tickets will go on sale at key stores in Pacifica this week. Admission is $1.50 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12.

Bayshore PTA honor member committee

Mrs. Fred Pajkos, president of the Bayshore PTA at 155 Oriente St., announced at the Nov. 13 night meeting that the following members of the Bayshore PTA will be serving on the Honorary Life Membership Committee. Mrs. Frank Barbara is the chairman with the following members assisting: Mr. Bert Painchaud, Mr. Wayne Liebert, Miss Gail O'Grady and Mrs. Marse Datzman. The above mentioned members are already recipients of this most honored award. The Honorary Life Membership award is given to a recipient who has been a credit in the community, worked for the welfare of children and one who did outstanding achievements in many fields. The recipient need not be living in the Bayshore area or a member of the PTA. This award will be given on Feb. 13, 1964 at the Bayshore PTA's Founder's Day meeting.

Holy Angels food sale December 1

Holiday Treats and Trimmings, Holy Angels Women's Guild food sale this year, will be held in the parish hall, 107 San Pedro Rd., Colma, on Sunday, Dec. 1, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The food sales committee, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Holsten and co-chairman Mrs. Leslie Moran, promise something for the whole family. Coffee will be free for Mom and Dad, courtesy of Simpson's Catering Company, donuts will be 5 cents each and hot chocolate for the kiddies will be 10 cents. While enjoying the light breakfast all are invited to browse through the hall and see the delightful holiday items offered.

The main table will consist of a vast assortment of homemade candies, cakes, cookies, breads, fruit cakes and hard candies all with the holiday spirit in mind.

Special feature of the sale this year will be a selection of Christmas decorations for the home. Mrs. Holsten promises a most unusual and attractive display from which to choose.

A turkey and assorted holiday spirits will be presented.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Phillip Bell, WY 2-3643, or Mrs. Thomas Lehane, WY 2-4541, for 25 cents each or three for 50 cents. The presentation will be held the day of the sale at 1:30 p.m. in the parish hall. Winners need not be present.

10th anniversary for S.M. Volunteer Bureau

The Volunteer Bureau of San Mateo County with headquarters at 119 Primrose Road, Burlingame, is observing its tenth birthday during November as the official recruitment, referral and placing center for volunteers working in the social welfare, health and recreation agencis and as th county's co-ordinating and planning service between volunteers and community projects.

The observance is marked with two new services in the fields of mental health and education representing further accomplishments for the Bureau and co-sponsored by the Mental Health Association and the school authorities.

The Bureau was established as an outgrowth of the county's population boom and the problems facing the agencies in meeting increasing demands for service, in November 1953 with Mrs. Gaynor Langsdorf of Hillsborough as first chairman.

In 1955 the Bureau was incorporated as an independent, non-profit agency, became a part of the United Crusade and has continued to share in the United Fund since that date, and it has continued to be sponsored by the Assistance League of San Mateo County.

'Man-in-blue' talks at Lincoln

As a culmination of their unit on "Safety and the Friends Who Help Us," Mrs. Miriam Holmberg's first level class at Abraham Lincoln Elementary School heard an explanation of the help the police give from a father of one of the children in the class.

Nov. 21 Melville Leathley, an officer on the San Francisco Police Force, visited the classroom and delighted the students with his explanation of the work and the importance to the public well-being of the men in blue.

His daughters, Diana and Elaine, both attend Abraham Lincoln.

Vista Mar Students visit the post office

On Tuesday, Nov. 19, Miss Susan Shaffer's second grade class from Vista Mar drove down to the Westlake Post Office. The field trip was planned so that the children might see what happens to the mail once it is deposited in the corner mailbox, who does the work, and the steps involved in the process.

The class has been studying "Jobs in the Community," and, therefore, this trip gave them the opportunity to see one of the jobs in action.

They were shown where the mail enters the office, is separated, the cancellation machines, facing table, and the one-way windows used by the postal inspectors.

Vista Mar's PTA membership drive was won by Mrs. Paula Shepard's first grade class. Out of a total enrollment of 29, 26 parents joined the PTA. Of this 26, the majority were both mother and father, rather than just one or the other.

It's SPARE TIME

at the Westlake Bowl

By Jim Grealish

The 920 All-Stars again held open season on the pins last Wednesday night as four teams topped the one thousand mark and nine bowlers broke the six hundred barrier. Leading the team onslaught was the Cypress Hills Golf Course and Bunker Room team with 1041 followed by Butcher & Tiedje with 1029, Addo-X Adding Machines with 1016 and Associated Insurance with 1002. Bob Mac Eachern led the individuals with 245-652 followed by Jim McGuirk with 225-649, Fred Thompson with 246-612, Mark Gonzalez with 211-611 and John Morales with 206-609.

Thursday night is "Mixed Leagues" night at Westlake as four leagues of gals and guys tital over 250 bowlers. Alma Gisell with 180-494 and Lou French with 222-627 led the Twilight Mixed Fives, Ginny Featherstone with 210-553 and Andy Keuser with 241-630 topped the Kings and Queens 850 Scratch League, Dot Maxwell with 184-509 and Rich Dreier with 219-603 topped the Northgate Mixed Fives and in the Broadmoor Mixed Fives Pat Porsch with 178-470 and Paul Davis with 186-540 were the high rollers.

Hal Messinger and Tim Curtin tied for top honors in the 939 Scratch League with 577 series but Hal toop high game honors with 215 while Tim shot 213.

Lee Puccetti shot a 205 game and 581 series as he led the Westlake Knolls League for the week.

Rich Hartje's 208 game and 554 series provided the highs in the Lake Merced Handicap League.

In the Sleepers Handicap, Mike Stanfield rolled a big 232 game and 577 series to lead the scoring for the week.

Leila Spring shot 164-477 and Jack Sanderson a 213 game and 556 series to top the Ball & Chain Mixed Fives.

Tomorrow marks the kick-off in the News Call-Bulletin Christmas Singles Classic with the first prize being a 1964 MG Sports Sedan. With a new format of six classes with bowlers of all averages being eligible. The qualifying round closes at 10 p.m. December 15 after which 25 percent will be eliminated for the second round of play.

Monday afternoon at 1.30 is now "Learn to Bowl" time at Westlake as Instructor Frank McCarthy conducts a weekly free instruction class for ladies.

Marge Beaumont and George Freyslaben took top honors for the week in the Southgate Mixed Fives League as Marge rolled 187-531 and George posted a 233 game and 590 series.

Both ladies and men will have an opportunity to compete in outstanding handicap tournaments during the coming weeks as the Northern California Team Handicap Tournaments are under way—the men's running until March 1, 1964 and the ladies' ending January 12. Both Tournaments are rich in prize funds with a low entry fee.

Jim McGuirk won the $100.00 top prize in the first Weekend Handicap Sweeper, beating Hal Pruitt by 19 pins. Third place and $25 went to Irwin Penn for 829. Irwin also won a $10 bonus prize for posting high series in the Friday night squad. Next week the Weekend Sweeper will once again be held from midnight Thursday until midnight Sunday with $100 guaranteed first prize.

Many Westlakers have added America's fastest growing participant sport to their accomplishments as ladies and men of the area visit the "Q" Room for a period of relaxation.

Best travel film showing in Westlake

"A Million Lights Shall Glow" which received the Cannes Film Award in 1962 as the best travel film will be shown Wednesday, November 27, by Westlake Travel Centre in Room 7 of the Westmoor High Schcool from 8 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Lorenzo Lo, lecturer and expert on the Middle East will be the speaker. The film describes in sound and color Hong Kong, city of mystery, melting pot of many peoples and the ancient center of excitement and romance. Here is a pictorial journey through one of the most colorful spots in the world, where the traditions of the old world are blended with the modern technology of the new. Beauty in many forms old and new await the audience of this film.

Also shown in color and for 25 minutes will be "The Orient" a P&O Orient Lines voyage which features the attractions of Japan, the Philippines and Hong Kong.

This program is presented to the public free of charge in connection with the Jefferson Union High School District. All are welcome.

What Every Woman Should Know About Her Automobile

By WENDY WHEELER
Auto-Torium Feminine Driving Consultant

There's been a definite nip in the air recently . . . I've noticed it every morning when I let the cat out. She sits in the doorway for what seems ages and checks off her list. Are there any enemy cats in the immediate area? Any dangerous dogs? What is the dew content of the lawn? Then there's that one final whisker-twiching check for a potential hazard I still don't understand. Finally—her mind made up—her royal fuzziness decides to go out!

By this time my teeth are chattering and as I cluch a hot cup of coffee in my half-frozen fingers, I realize that there's been a definite nip in the air recently.

"I wonder where I put the children's stretch pants and their mittens after our last trip to the snow?" I asked my husband at breakfast.

"I put them in the box with the flying saucers," he answered, "and with those miserable, useless, impossible (etc., etc., etc.) tire chains."

The flying saucers are large, plastic saucers, with a handle on each side and they serve many practical purposes—you can slide down a snow-covered hill on them, use them as shields in a snowball fight, or build a snow fort with them.

The tire chains, on the other hand, serve no purpose other than to make a trip to the snow country as unpleasant as possible if you must use them. They don't go on—and strangely enough, they don't come off either or they fall off while you're driving. One gets soaking wet and muddy crawling under the car trying to get the chains around the tire. One also loses one's temper, which doctors say is not very good for our health.

In the interests of my husband's health I found that the Auto-torium has a wonderful answer to the problem of tire chains. Skiers and snow-bunnys alike may look forward to this winter with greater anticipation than usual. The Auto-torium stores have a new type of tire chain in stock. Each chain comes with a chain applicator which slips around the tire and holds the chain securely in position. The chain is merely spread in front of the tires, you drive forward, snap the properly positioned chain in place, and continue your journey—calm, dry, and even refreshed after stretching your legs.

See you on the slopes!

Free copies of Wendy Wheeler's informative and enteraining booklet, "What Every Woman Should Know . . . About Her Car," may be obtained at any Auto-torium store or by writing her in care of this newspaper.

PTA talk explains 'new math'

Two hundred people heard about the "new" mathematics at the Daniel Webster PTA meeting Nov. 20.

Dr. James R. Smart, associate professor of mathematics of San Jose State College, acquainted parents and guests with the vocabulary, terminology, methods and mechanics used in teaching "new" mathematics.

"New" math isn't really new, explained Dr. Smart, but places greater emphasis on complete understanding and individual reasoning.

Young children frequently enter school with a fair understanding of number concepts, and the "new" math makes use of what they already know and presents to them at earlier levels the discovery and meaning of mathematics.

In the acceleration of traditional mathematics, California school grades one through eight will begin study in new textbooks in the near future.

Dr. Smart discussed the proposed state textbooks.

Primary teachers Mrs. Carle, Mrs. Kellogg and Mrs. Mequier told and demonstrated to the audience new aids used to teach math in Daniel Webster School.

Visual aids included flannel boards, counting men, sets and sub-sets to show number values as well as "Cuisenair Rods" (rods of various colors and sizes used to denote certain number values).

Daniel Webster is the pilot school in the Jefferson Elementary School District for "new" math programs.

Warning on use of county road taxes

Senator Randolph Collier of Yreka, "father of the state highway program," minced no words when he warned San Mateo County leaders that if co-ordinated plans are not worked out in all counties for proper expenditures of the new one-cent gas tax money he would ask the legislature to step in and set all the rules.

Speaking at a county-city symposium last week he made it plain that this money was to meet the deficiencies in local road needs and it was up to local governments to see that the most critical problems were met in order of importance. He urged consolidation of county and cities money to get the job done properly.

Councilman Wallace Benson pleaded for cooperative efforts on the part of all cities, but so far only four cities have agreed to the pooling of funds. Formation of a Greater Highway Committee is under way by the board and the individual cities, and through this group it is hoped a joint program can be worked out that will bring construction of the first stage of the highway master plan by 1971.

A county district for mass transportation was urged by State Senator Richard J. Dolwig, the keynoter. Cities were asked to send resolutions supporting the board of supervisors appeal to the governor asking him to place the subject on the agenda for the special session. A bill establishing a county-wide transit district was vetoed by the governor this fall.

Supervisor William M. Werder, the medorator, said no type of system has been proposed specifically but that all possibilities should be studied. It was generally agreed that to be successful it must tie in with the Bay Area Rapid Transit system and also must include Santa Clara county. No property taxes would be used for this study. A new state law allows funds from a motor vehicle in lieu tax to be used for rapid transit district studies.

The talks opened on the subject of "Sanitary Sewers." John B. Harrison, executive officer of the Regional Water Pollution Control Board, stressed the need to enforce laws which can force every city now discharging into the bay to spend millions of dollars for second treatment plant facilities. Some panel speakers were critical of the state board's approach to the problems.

"Refuse Disposal," another subject strictly county-wide in scope, opened with Keynoter William J. Phillips of the Orange County Board of Supervisors, who told of the model program in effect in his county. He pointed out his county operated all dump sites on contract with cities for pick-up. No fees are charged for dumping, he said, because it is a service to all the people. "Fortunately," he added, "we have acquired government land in the mountains at little or no cost." Fill and cover is providing sites for future golf courses and playgrounds.

With a master plan already completed, San Mateo County is ready to proceed on the acquiring of dump sites, also aimed at providing future recreational areas. This program calls for ultimately discontinuing the present bay fill plan and going to the canyons of the hill areas.

It was generally agreed that a definition of the bay itself should be established. Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi of Redwood City said the original regulations as set forth in the moratorium bill would have prevented the filling of any lot east of El Camino Real. County and city officials will continue to oppose any moratorium, with the next fight expected to come next spring if Governor Brown agrees to request to pace the matter on the agenda at the special session of the legislature.

School lunch program vital to kids health

School children in Pacifica and the northern peninsula are among 700,000 pupils who daily eat a well balanced lunch in some 3,700 California schools.

The school lunch program means improved health and better accomplishment in school, says Robert P. Rizer, local school administrator.

Mrs. Lydia Cooper, Pacifica school lunch supervisor, reports that $77,142.86 a year is spent on lunches in Pacifica and $40,000,000 in California.

Last year the Laguna Salada school lunch shopping list called for 5,630 pounds of ground beef and 2,285 pounds of hot dogs.

Two of the most popular menus with the students are hot dogs and hamburgers.

The 57,197 pounds of food donations from the Federal Government included 1,800 pounds of ground beef, 1,900 pounds of turkeys, 5,480 pounds of chicken, and a variety of canned goods and vegetables.

Each of the 166,280 lunches served to the elementary students in Pacifica included at least one half-pint of milk purchased from local dairymen.

This makes the school lunch program an important part of the local economy, says Mrs. Cooper.

Student lunches are available for 35c in the Laguna Salada School District.

These prices are made possible by the help of the Federal cash reimbursement of 5c a meal and a federally donated foods amounting to another 5c a per meal.

Serra Bowl News

With the Turkey Shoot still going on at Serra Bowl it's a pleasure to see so many birds going out the door headed for the Thanksgiving Dinner tables. The shoot continues through Nov. 28. For those who do not win one of our luscious Turkeys, may we suggest making reservations for your families and friends to enjoy your holiday Thanksgiving Dinner with us here in the award winning Friar Room Restaurant. Contact Mr. Ed Olsson, WY 2-3444, for reservations and information.

Back by extremely popular demand is The Senational Dave (Riverboat) Larson Trio. Joining the trio is the talented, and traveled Dick Gamina on Accordion. Dick has just returned from a successful engagement in Las Vegas. Dick's brother, Rudy, has for years been one of the stellar stars of the Harry James orchestra. Rounding out the exciting and versatile combo is Rick Flores on Bass. We are very proud of this group and confident that an evening in their audience will be an evening highly enjoyed and well spent.

We seem to be full of good news this week and are happy to announce that addition to our staff of the well known professional bowler, Billy Mack. Billy who is one of the best bowlers in the Northern California area (now currently carrying a solid 205 average) will be available for instruction lessons in addition to his other promotional duties. More important, Billy is a fine gentleman and an asset to the industry. We know you're going to like him so come in and get acquainted. Billy will be in charge of our mixed group bowling instruction classes on Saturdays at 1:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Hats off to Mike Kessel in the Wednesday B&G mixed fives league who picked up the rugged big four split (4-6-7-10) the other evening. Nice going, Mike.

It's not too early to mention that Serra Bowl will again be hosting their gala New Year's Eve Party. Tickets at $12.50 per person went on sale Monday at the Serra Bowl. The party get under way at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 31. Tickets include: 3½ acres of free parking, free hat and coat checking, unlimited bowling, all the Prim Rib, or Hame dinner you can eat, dancing (we will award a few trophies for winners of various dance contests) to the Dave Larsen Trio, plus anything you care to drink all evening long. Bring your gang for the New Year's Eve party you will remember for a long, long time.

Trip to Zoo for T. Edison children

Recently all the kindergartens at Thomas Edison took a field trip to the San Francisco Zoo. The groups were very excited about riding on the bus as many children had never been on one. We learned "The Bus" song to sing on route.

The baby animals and monkeys were particularly enjoyed by the children. They also noted the various ways that the animals had of protecting themselves.

First Baptists have special Bible study

"What Baptists Believe" . . . is the theme of the special Bible study program now being held on Wednesday evenings at First Baptist Church of Daly City. Stressing the thought that every Christian should know exactly what their church stands for, and be able to give the scriptural Pastor C. R. Archer is leading the members to a deeper spiritual faith through this study. This study is open to all who wish to attend.

It is recommended that each person attending bring a Bible for quick reference during the study. Bible study is held each Wednesday evening commencing at 7:30 p.m. with the exception of the first Wednesday after the first Sunday of each month, which is the church business meeting. The church also extends a cordial invitation to all to worship on Sunday. Sunday school and Bible study for all ages is at 9:45 a.m., the morning worship service at 11 a.m. The Sunday evening services are held at 7 p.m. Pastor Archer states that fundamental Bible teaching is stressed in all departments of the church. First Baptist Church of Daly City is located at the corner of Lisbon and Byrne streets, just one block south of Market, off Hillside, in Daly City.

Thanksgiving services at Hope Lutheran

Thanksgiving services will be held at Hope Lutheran Church, 55 San Fernando Way, Daly City, at 10 a.m. Nov. 28, Pastor Arnim H. Polster has announced.

Using as his text verses 1-6, Psalm 92, the theme of Pastor Polster's sermon will be "Thanksgiving is a Grateful Heart."

Special Thanksgiving music will be provided by the Hope Lutheran Church choir, under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Edler. Featured in the choir's program will be the hymn "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing."

Special services for Kennedy

Protestant churches throughout San Francisco have held and will be holding special memorial services for President John F. Kennedy.

At noon on Friday, the bells of Temple Methodist Church tolled in memory of the President. The first memorial service was held in the downtown Glide Methodist Church at 3:30 p.m. Friday. Seven others were held Friday afternoon and evening.

Many churches will be open for prayer and meditation on Saturday.

On Sunday, Calvary Presbyterian Church, in cooperation with the San Francisco Council of Churches, will hold a memorial service of music at Calvary Presbyterian Church, 2515 Fillmore St. Alden Gilchrist will be organist.

Other Protestant churches will change the format of their usual Sunday services and make them memorial services. Many Episcopal churches will hold solemn requiem services. Special prayers will be said at nearly all worship services throughout the day.

On the day of the funeral three Episcopal churches will hold solemn requiems.

Christian Science Thanksgiving service

"This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it" (Ps. 118:24). This is the theme of a Thanksgiving Day service to be held in Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, 175 Junipero Serra Blvd., San Francisco, at 11 a.m. Thursday.

All are welcome and no collections will be taken.

The theme will be brought out in hymns and a specially prepared Bible Lesson, opening with "Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright" (Ps. 33:1).

Reasons for gratitude will be pointed out in related selections from the Christian Science textbook: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on many by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 387).

Appropriate testimonies of gratitude for healings in Christian Science will be included as part of the one-hour service; also the Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President and/or Governor will be read by the First Reader.

Beth Sholom plans New Year's dance

Congregation Beth Sholom Young Married Guild are planning a New Year's eve dance to be held at the Temple House at 14th Ave. and Clement St.

Favors, hot Kosher buffet—prizes will be offered. Music by Sam Stern orchestra. Proceeds are for the Temple building fund. Tickets in advance $5.50 per person or $6.50 at the door. For reservations call Sid Koss PL 5-3214.

Lutheran Thanksgiving services set

A special Thanksgiving service will be held at Westlake Lutheran Church, Avalon Dr. at Westmoor Ave., Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 7:45 p.m. The meditation, by Pastor Kenneth Hansen, will be entitled, "Thanks Living."

At the Dec. 1, Sunday worship service, "The Christian Funeral," will be the sermon topic. Pastor Hansen will refer to Jessica Mitford's book, "The American Way of Death," commenting on her view of the subject.

Nov. 17, 62 young people gathered for a Thanksgiving party at the church. Gary Weschler, president of the Luther League, wishes to thank all the families in the neighborhood who donated canned goods to the young people to be distributed to the needy through the services of the Lutheran Welfare center in San Francisco.

Tuesday, Dec. 3, the ladies of the church will hostess the annual installation meeting of the West Bay Chapter of the Lutheran Welfare Auxiliary for the Lutheran women in the area. The program will commence at 10:30 a.m. and end at 2 p.m. Dessert and coffee will be served and child care will be provided. Chaplain Elmer Laursen, Protestant Chaplain of the University of California Medical Center, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. John Hodgkiss will be the organist and special music will be provided.

Sunset White Shrine plans annual bazaar

The service organization for Sunset White Shrine, Club 94, will hold its annual bazaar at Crocker Masonic Temple, 22 Hillcrest Drive, Daly City, on Saturday, November 30, 1963, to which the public is invited.

Mrs. Louis (Margaret) Pearson, past worthy High Priestess of Sunset Shrine, will serve as gneeral chairman and chief cook. Among shrine followers she has a reputation of being an excellent cook.

Mrs. Pearson announces that luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. for $1 and that dinner will be from 5:30 to 9 p.m. for $1.75 with children under 12 years of age only 75c.

Guests will be given an opportunity to purchase lovely Christmas gifts at very attarctive prices. Special art-needle work will be featured as well as utility items, aprons, etc. There will be tables of plants, home-cooked foods, delicacies and many interesting items on display.

Young Ladies No. 190 pancake breakfast

Our Lady of The Visitacion Young Ladies Institute No. 190 of the Church of The Visitacion is planning a pancake breakfast and bake sale on Sunday, December 1st after all Masses. The breakfast will consist of pancakes and coffee, fruit juice and snails purchased extra not included in the breakfast.

The cakes will be freshly baked by the members of Institute No. 190 and the prices will vary according to size and type. The breakfast and bake sale will be held at the Parish Hall, 775 Sunnydale Ave. The chairmen of this breakfast will be mesdames Jack O'Sullivan and Walter Henning. The Institute members will do the cooking and serving and selling of cakes. All proceeds will be placed in the welfare fund.

John Byrne Bar Mitzvah

John Byrne, son of Mrs. Evelyn Byrne of Westlake, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah at Temple Judea's Sabbath Evening Services this coming Friday evening, November 29th. The services will be held at the House of Lawton, 1925 Lawton Street, San Francisco, and will commence at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantoc Harold Wachter will officiate.

Mrs. Evelyn Byrne, mother of the Bar Mitzvah boy, will do the Candle Blessing and will host the Oneg Shabbat (social) following services, in honor of her son.

Temple Judea Sisterhood news briefs

Members of Temple Judea are entering a unique contest to celebrate the Festival of Chanukah. They will decorate their homes with dreidels, paper ornaments, and home-made decorations. All families who wish to enter their homes in this Chanukah Contest are urged to call Mrs. Goldstein (JU 7-9563) or Mrs. Davis (DE 4-1843) so that their home may be registered as an entry.

The Lake Merced Boathouse will be the place of Sisterhood Temple Judea's next luncheon to be held on Tuesday, December 10th at 11:30 a.m.

A hot luncheon (with exotic desserts of different countries) will be served.

Admission charge, according to Mrs. Nathan Sternsher, Sisterhood president, is $1.25 per person.

For reservations and further information, please contact Mrs. Goodstein, PLaza 6-0796 or Mrs. Taylor, PL 6-4425.

OLM men to hold pre-holiday meeting

Membership awards and refreshments with a Holiday flavor will feature the regular monthly meeting of the Westlake Catholic Men's Club next Tuesday evening, Dec. 3, in the Parish Hall of Our Lady of Mercy Church at 8:15 p.m.

Dick Hoedt, club president, has announced that no speaker has been arranged in order to provide additional time for a pre-Holiday social hour for the members following the business meeting.

Sets of tickets to major sport and entertainment attractions will be among the special membership awards to be presented to members in attendance.

Frank Lawson, Holy Name director of the Club, also announced this week that the Men's monthly Communion Mass will be held on this coming Sunday, Dec. 8, at 8 a.m. and urge a large attendance of fathers and sons.

School of Missions at Seacliff church

Friday, Nov. 22, marked the opening of a series of four Friday nights at Seacliff Church which feature real-live, and challenging missionaries.

Sponsored by the WSWS, and planned for the whole family, first session will feature:

MISS GLADYS WARD, an evangelistic missionary in South China, then the Philippines, and for the last eight years in HONG KONG.

Challenging Message.
Pictures . . . Curios.
Nursery and Child Care.

In addition to being open to the entire congregation it is the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Society, with all three circles meeting together.

Starting time: 7:30.

SUBSEQUENT MISSIONS in the School of Missions:

Nov. 29—AFRICA—Dr. Mabel Silver. This will also be our annual Thanksgiving Candle-Lite Communion Service — even thought the night after.

Dec. 6—KENTUCKY—a Mountaineer "Carry-In" Dinner, served by the Youth. DR. BISCHOFF.

Dec. 13—NEW MEXICO—our Spanish-American mission in the "Land of Enchantment."

Bethel Lutheran Thanksgiving Day Service

Bethel Lutheran Church, 2525 Alemany Blvd., will observe Thanksgiving Day with a special service on Thursday, Nov. 28, at 10 a.m.

The Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will preach on the subject: "The Praise of a Grateful Heart." The Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Dale McKinney, will sing "Let Us Praise God."

It is a canticle in which the pastor will serve as readers, and the central thought is then echoed by the choir. Mrs. Abel Fabela will serve as organist.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

B'nai Israel men plan Chanukah dance

The Men's Club have chosen "The Festival of Lights" as the theme for their annual Chanukah dance to be held Saturday evening, December 21, at Colombo Hall, 15 San Pedro Road, Colma, Calif. Music will be furnished by Ray Clarfield and his orchestra.

Admission is $1.25 a person. Mr. Clarfield, who is also dance committee chairman, says there will be many valuable door prizes. The main prize being an all expense paid stay for two for three days at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas.

Proceeds of the affair will benefit the building fund. Tickets may be obtained from Wolfgang Schlesinger, 256 Alta Loma Ave., Daly City, PL 6-8644 or Stanley Fisher, 295 Fairlawn Dr., Daly City, PL 6-7522.

Friday, November 29, is birthday Sabbath at Congregation B'nai Israel, 67 Los Banos Ave., Daly City. The following children, who have had a birthday during the month of November will be honored during the service: Marla Ehrlich, Alan Parkin, Marc Rubin, Nicholas Wellisch and William Bloch. Mrs. Stanley Fisher and Mrs. Harold Levinson will be hostesses for the Oneg Shabbat following the services. Rabbi Solomon Shore's sermon topic will be "Thanksgiving in Jewish History."

Rabbi Shore and Mr. Michaelis, President of the congregation will be participating in a joint Thanksgiving Service at Temple Beth Israel in San Francisco, sponsored by the San Francisco Council of Rabbis.

Sunday School Teachers are in rehearsal for a play to be presented during Chanukah. Mrs. Phyllis Ehrlich is director.

New Organ installed

The new Margaret Pauline Brown Memorial Organ was installed in the Broadmoor Presbyterian church sanctuary last week as the most advanced model of the larger Allen Electronic Organ. The Organ Committee with Rodman Barnes as chairman is making plans for a special introduction of the organ to the congregation and public. The organ is being played by Del Severy at tonight's Thanksgiving Eve Service at 8.00 p.m. and at the two Sunday morning services at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m.

The High School U.P.Y. of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street, Daly City, hosts the youth from the Pedro Valley Presbyterian Church this Sunday (Dec. 1) evening. Events begin with a potluck supper at 5:30 p.m. followed by an address and discussion given by Dr. Baird Whitlock, College Youth Advisor of the local church and professor of humanities at S.F. State. Bill Eagleton is Moderator of the local group with the advisors being Dorothy Spratt and Alice Kerr. There are two Bible study classes for high schoolers at 9:30 a.m. Sundays. Teachers are Pat Morales, Tom House and Ted Peceimer.

The Women's Association holds their monthly meeting this coming Tuesday, December 3, at 8:00 p.m. as a Christmas Party. New officers for 1964 will be installed. Canned foods will be brought for the welfare use of the inner city churches in San Francisco. Mrs. Bernice Hamilton, W. A. president, will preside.

The Voyagers Mariners for married couples holds a progressive dinner on Saturday, Dec. 7, at 7 p.m. beginning at the Bill Filkin home. Other homes to be visited are the Bob McBride, Bill Powers and Lewis Paulsen.

Good Shepherd Ladies plan membership tea

The Ladies of the Altar Society of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Pacifica, will sponsor a Membership Tea on Sunday, December 8th from 2 to 4 p.m. The purpose of this tea is to honor new members of the Altar Society and to interest other women of the Parish in joining this active group.

Pouring will be Mrs. Connie Suez, President and Mrs. Patricia Valentine, Vice President.

Invite Oklahoma pastor to St. Paul's

An invitation has been extended the Rev. J. Larry Jacobson, Midwest City, Oklahoma, to speak at the union Thanksgiving service to be conducted at the Buri Buri Methodist Church Thanksgiving Day, November 28th, at 10:00 a.m. Rev. Jacobson will be in San Francisco enroute to the Philippines as a three-year-term missionary assigned to Malaya. The public is invited to hear this speaker.

On Sunday, December 1st, the Advent Season will be inaugurated in St. Paul's Methodist Church, South San Francisco, with a sermon by the minister, Rev. Robert A. Lundy, entitled "The Presence of Jesus.

A group of Church School workers from St. Paul's Methodist Church will attend a District Workshop in the Millbrae Methodist Church on Saturday, Nov. 30th, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. New materials prepared by the Denominational Boards of Education will be explained to all those present.

The Official Board meeting of St. Paul's Methodist Church for December will be held at the home of Carl T. Smith on Dec. 2nd at 7:30 p.m. Bertram Nicholls will lead the devotions.

Thanksgiving breakfast at St. Martin's church

A breakfast will be held at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, 777 Southgate, Daly City, at 11 a.m., immediately following the 10 o'clock Thanksgiving Day service.

The menu will feature tender, special-formula pancakes, coffee, hot chocolate, orange juice and sausage—and all for just 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for children under ten years of age. Idea for Dad: bring the kiddies so Mother can scoot home and get the turkey ready for the oven.

Food for thought

"The Answer for Fear"

This is a dangerous world in which we live, and no normal person can face life without experiencing countless fears. Therefore, it would be nonsense for someone to advise you to not be afraid. Fear is a normal part of life. It is part of the fee we pay for being alive in an unpredictable universe.

We have all kinds of fear: fear of growing old, fear of losing status, fear of the dread diseases, fear of losing our job or our business, fear of death. We are not saying that we should stop being afraid. But rather we are suggesting that it is possible to master our fears.

Man's greatest triumph, Bertrand Russell declares in his book, A Free Man's Worship, is to achieve stability and inner repose in a world of shifting threats and terrifying changes.

We know that fear can either be constructive or destructive. Someone has said that all of the inventions and discoveries of human civilization are in a sense by-products of our fears and worries. Men were afraid of the dark. They learned the art of fire and discovered the secrets of elctricity. Men were afraid of pain—and that fear became the mother of medicine and all the discoveries of surgery, anesthesia and healing. Fear is often a stimulus to growth; it causes us to act for our good, for the good of our family and for the good of others. So fear is a desirable thing; it is constructive.

But as we well know, it can also be very destructive. Excessive fear can make cowards of us all in the face of life and in the face of death.

What we need in life is not the absence of fear or the absence of the storms which cause our fears. This we will not have anyway. What we need is courage. We need to master our fears with courage through faith in Jesus Christ.

The Sea of Galilee is not a fisherman's paradise. Though it is small, yet it can be the scene of violent storms. The calm of one moment can become the raging storm of the next. It was in one of these violent and sudden storms that Jesus and his disciples were caught. The disciples panicked. They lost their nerve. They felt completely helpless as their boat was engulfed by the waves. And so they woke Jesus. "Save us, Lord, we are sinking," they cried. And Jesus replied, "Why are you such cowards? how little faith you have." And he calmed the sea and the wind.

The disciples were astonished. "What sort of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?"

Sometimes the storms of life hit us with the same suddenness and violence with which the storms shatter the calm of the Sea of Galilee. And these storms strike fear in our heart. We can panic, go to pieces. Or we can master our fear with courage, with the courage which comes from knowing that in our frail skiff is one who is Lord of life. Our courage grows out of our faith in him who is master of the storms of life. Our faith changes the question of the disciples into an exclamation: "What a man this is, even the wind and the sea obey him!" Here in this fragile boat of mine is the very Son of God, ruler of heaven and earth. Here is one who suffered pain and death, the very storms of life, and conquered. He is with us. His presence is near. And He gives to me the courage and calm for all of life's storms.

In the book, Burma Diary, the author describes how administering to the bomb-stricken people he finds himself saying to them:

"God keep you. . . . What mean by this is that God will keep us from the ultimate evil. That ultimate evil is not death. If I were hit by a bomb or a shell . . . they who love me must not think of it as God's failure to keep me. To be kept by God means to be in His love whether living or dying, being hit or escaping."

When we grow afraid of life and death, we can master our fear with courage which grows out of our faith in the loving presence of Jesus Christ. To have faith in the trustworthiness of Christ and in His sustaining care, and to know that we can never travel beyond his loving arms, is to have courage to master our fears.
